

MODULE HANDBOOK

|                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Module designation (Code)                                     | Research essay results seminar (KMT620402)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Semester(s) in which the module is taught                     | 8th                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Module Coordinator                                            | Head of Study Programme                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Lecturers                                                     | Supervisors                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Language                                                      | Bahasa Indonesia or English                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Relation to curriculum                                        | Compulsory                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Teaching methods                                              | 100 minutes consultation and 70 individual activity                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Workload (incl. contact hours, self-study hours)              | 16 weeks x 1 cp x 170 minutes                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Credit points                                                 | 1 (0-1) CP or 1.59 (ECTS)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Required and recommended prerequisites for joining the module | Research essay proposal seminar                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Module objectives/intended learning outcomes                  | After taking this course the students have ability to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- take responsibility for maintaining research ethics</li> <li>- apply basic research concepts</li> <li>- analyze educational problems and submit appropriate solutions,</li> <li>- have the ability to communicate effectively in spoken and written forms</li> </ul> |
| Content                                                       | This course guides students to understand and be able to apply basic research concepts. Students are directed to write research results, discussions and conclusions based on the research proposal that has been made. The final assignment of the Research essay is prepared in accordance with the Guide to Writing Scientific Papers Universitas Lampung.                                           |
| Examination forms                                             | Seminar                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Study and examination requirements                            | Final score is evaluated based on quality of research essay (introduction, literature study, research method, result and discuss, conclusion) and Appearance in seminar. Two supervisors and one examiner will guide students; the assessment percentage is Supervisor 1 (40%), supervisor 2 (20%) and examiner (40%).                                                                                  |
| Reading list                                                  | Universitas Lampung. 2020. Panduan Penulisan Karya Ilmiah Universitas Lampung. Bandar Lampung: Universitas Lampung.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |