Normally, a dryer vent's temperature is between 120°F (49°C) and 160°F (71°C) when it's working right. When you're drying clothes, the inside of the dryer can get as hot as 135°F (57°C) to 150°F (66°C). But as the hot air goes out through the vent, it cools down. This is okay and shows that the vent is doing its job. Apr 1, 2024

How to Hide Dryer Vent Hose

<https://www.airductnow.com/how-to-hide-dryer-vent-hose>

You can paint the dryer vent pipe to match your walls, making it blend seamlessly with the surroundings. You can opt for flexible ducting to maneuver the hose through less visible areas if space is limited. Apply silicone caulk around the cover edges to create a seal and prevent moisture buildup.
