I used to represent both sides of abuse claims, in some cases defending the care homes.	Kyle speaking to clients.
But disgusted with the mistreatment I witnessed, I stopped defending abusive care providers and devoted myself full-time to winning justice for victims — and preventing more cherished family members from becoming victims.	Kyle arguing in court.
Because of my experience on both sides, I know how to hit abusive care homes where it hurts —	Kyle speaking to the camera.
so they understand that there are severe consequences for this kind of mistreatment.	Upset executive looking at a bill or computer screen, having just lost a lot of money.
If you want to prevent the next family from suffering like your family did, stand up to abusive nursing care providers.	Happy multigenerational family — grandparents, parents, children — together and enjoying each others' company.
Drag them to court.	Stern judge pounding a gavel
