

advice - noun (uncountable) a piece of advice advise - verb affect - verb = influence, modify, change effect - noun

amount (quantity) - used with uncountable nouns (money, work, time..) number (quantity) - used with countable nouns (a big number of students, flowers) category = kind, genre, type chapter - part of a book unit - part of a textbook completely - adverb = fully, totally, absolutely concerned = worried = bothered - adjective describe - verb description - noun

exact = precise, accurate -> adjective exactly, precisely, accurately -> adverb do a favour - help, assist literature [litereche]

mayor - the head of the city/town major - noun -> main subject; adjective - main majority - noun (the most of..)

cat nap = nap - take a nap in pattern 'mb' - b is silent poetry - genre of literature poet - a person who writes poetry poem - a piece of poetry rarely = seldom request - verb, noun (more formal than ask) = ask for slightly = a little, not much - adverb / slight - adjective

You look slightly different.

Should we go slightly farther?

spare - adjective -> free (spare time); extra, additional (spare key, spare wheel, spare pen) success - noun

successful - adjective

succeed - verb terrible - adjective = really bad, horrible, awful brain fog

get in trouble, be in trouble trouble maker

trouble shooting - a process to solve the problem