- High Frequency/Heart Word Practice
- Decoding VC and CVC Words

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Activity: Blending Line Practice Your child came home with a half sheet called a Blending Line. Practice going through each section with your child.	Activity: Joyful Reading Please select a fiction or informational book to read from home. If you do not have any nonfiction titles, visit Unit for Literacy. In Unit 2, students will continue to visit story elements. In addition, they will learn that an informational book teaches the reader things. It often has graphic features to show AND tell, such as picture w/ a caption, diagram w/ labels, etc.	Activity: Small group book Your child will have a book to read to you. If this book is challenging for your child, please reread it 1 additional time TOGETHER. *If time, please revisit Blending Lines as your child is gaining automaticity and fluency with these new phonics skills and will be able to read more quickly and accurately this time.	Activity: Dictation Practice Your child will show you how he learned to listen to a word and encode (spell) a sound using the knowledge of phonological awareness and phonics. This is such an exciting time as our Kinder students are learning the foundation for how to spell! In addition, this is a time they will be learning how to form letters correctly: handwriting. You can practice handwriting at home using this resource.	Activity: Digital Reading Unite for Literacy RAZ Kids Flyleaf
