Most common mistake that new copywriters make but you don't have too.

Before you're going to start your career you need to understand one thing.

Copywriting is not easy.

Too many people make this mistake - after they read the first pages of a copywriting course, they say „Ok, but where is the money?”.

Don't think that way. Copywriting is a skill that needs to be practiced like every other skill.

No one after riding their first 100m on a bicycle goes to cycling team and says:
„Give me 100,000$ and i will win Tour de France for you”

First you need to get good at copywriting and then you will make money.

Loads of money.

So learn from the free trial we send you, and watch out for the next email.

You can do it.

Maybe it crossed your mind that you aren't made for this.

You're wrong.

If you can write, you can be a copywriter.

Here's an example:

Henry - was an extremely introverted person.
He was struggling with calls, meetings and connections with clients.
So he had only one client, and he wasn't paid well.

He started to be desperate, sending emails to potential clients like crazy.

Even if someone replied he didn't know how to close the deal.

But then he discovered John's Carlton freelance course.

Fast forward 2 years, he is driving a new BMW, gets more offers than he can take and is living a life he couldn't even imagine.

That history is not an exception.
You can do it.
