

CrownCams Offers Free Studio Apartments For Live Streaming Performers

Crown Visual Media Group, the parent company of CrownCams.com, announces the offering of free studio apartments for live streaming performers

CrownCams.com has witnessed tremendous growth in popularity not only with viewers but also among performers, with the platform featuring more than 100,000 webcam models streaming live worldwide. In line with the goal of delivering the best possible experience to the audience while creating an avenue for content providers to offer their best, Crown Visual Media Group is providing free housing to performers.

"This is the first time such an opportunity has been offered to live video streaming models. We think this is an excellent opportunity for anyone who is considering a career in the live video streaming industry whether it be a beginner or seasoned veteran." - Donovan A. McCloud, the director of operations for Crown Visual Media Group LLC.

A report published by NBC in January 2015 revealed that the global adult film industry is a $97 billion market, according to Kassia Wosick, assistant professor of sociology at New Mexico State University. It also established that the industry is set to grow significantly over the coming years as more people seek ways of satisfying their pleasures without leaving the comfort of their homes, with increased access to the internet further driving the market. Over the years, a plethora of adult film platforms has emerged to deliver content to the audience. However, many of such platforms do not fulfill the needs of viewers in terms of engagement and privacy, which is where CrownCams has been particularly helpful in recent times.

Crown Visual Media Group is practically rewriting the history books with the free housing gesture as it is the first-of-its-kind in the industry. The live streaming company is offering 100% free housing to content providers who are only required to perform live online shows a minimum of 15 hours a week. The studio apartments are currently available and located in Marina Del Rey and Santa Monica California.

CrownCams.com has become increasingly popular for enabling users to chat with amateur performers while watching them live on camera, a feature that stands it out from other similar platforms. The multi-lingual platform has thousands of performers of all types for different age groups as well as categories, ranging from Asian to BBW, couples, brunette, blonde, fetish, Latina, group, and a host of others, to ensure that there is something for everyone, irrespective of their preferences.
