Geeks for Geeks

1.This is sample text which supports rich text format as you can see the font used is Times New Roman.

2.This is a sample text which uses Arial black font.

3.This is a sample text which is underlined.

4.As we can see the font size is large as compared to above sentences.

If you paste this text in the word processor which supports rich text format then you will get the same formatting of text along with the styles. You can try the same.
