

Dear Friend,

Thank you for writing to Letters for Liberation, formerly known as Abolition Apostles. We are proud to connect incarcerated people across the country with pen pals on the outside.

From your letter, it appears that you may be looking for a romantic connection. We have no judgment about that, but it is important for you to understand that Letters for Liberation is not a dating service.

If you understand that and would still like a pen pal, we would be happy to try to connect you with one. We do not charge for this service and won't share your information online. Please let us know if you're interested in joining our waitlist by writing to the following address:

Letters for Liberation
501 N. Norman C. Francis Pkwy #791410
New Orleans, LA 70119

We do have a rather long waiting list at the moment, but we assign pen pals as quickly as we can.

Thank you for reaching out.

Sincerely,

The Letters for Liberation Pen Pal Team
