Backstory:

Elizabeth had been away at college to become a cop for a small town. Once graduated she had been partners with Rick Grimes, and Shane Walsh. After a little while of working for King county she had ended up being next door neighbors to Rick, Lori and little Carl at the time. When the apocalypse had started, she had been out on late night patrol after hearing of Rick getting shot and she had run into her first undead. After killing it she drove home only for her to find Shane looking for her instead.
