

After reading the article "A Bloody Injustice" write a response (no more than one paragraph) to the question Should we still use blood spatter as evidence when it is capable of convicting an innocent person?