

Polar Bear

By:Violette A.

Polar bears live in the arctic. There are many adaptations that help them survive.

Polar bear paws

They have big front paws with skin between their toes. That helps them paddle through the water.

Polar bear fur

They have a thick coat of warm fur that keeps them cozy.

Where polar bears live

Polar bears live in the arctic. It is one of the coldest places on Earth. That is all of the fascinating adaptations of a polar bear. I hope you learned something new about polar bear adaptations!

Sources:

National Geographic, nationalgeographic.com 2026