If you do not have certificates of completion for any workshops, you must fill out the Education Form for Undocumented Events found in the application and have your supervisor or program director sign the bottom to verify that you have attended the listed workshops. Listing education on this form should be the exception in your documentation. Only 30% (12 hours) of total education can be applied with this form. ETHICS TRAINING MUST BE DOCUMENTED, AND MAY NOT BE LISTED ON THIS FORM. You should make every effort to locate missing verification of educational hours before using this form. EXPIRATION OF CERTIFICATION

Notification

Certified Prevention Specialists will be notified by mail or email 60-90 days prior to the upcoming expiration date. This is a courtesy reminder and failure to receive this reminder does not negate the responsibility to recertify in a timely manner. Failure to recertify will result in the loss of the Prevention Certificate.

LAPSED CERTIFICATION

A certification is considered lapsed if it is not renewed within the designated expiration date. A lapse indicates that the individual did not complete the renewal requirements within the allotted time.

Recertification can be applied for up to 6 months after the expiration date by:

- a) Meeting recertification requirements,
- b) Completing recertification application,
- c) Signing and notarizing a copy of the Code of Ethical Standards,
- d) Paying the appropriate recertification fee of $125.00,
- e) Paying a late fee of $50.00, and
- f) Documenting the completion of 40 additional hours of continuing education in the domains since the beginning of the last certification period.

If the Prevention Specialist is successfully recertified, the new recertification date will be the same as if the recertification had occurred in a timely manner. For example, If your lapsed credential expired on 7/15/2025 and you recertify late, your new expiration date will be 7/15/2027.

If the Prevention Specialist fails to re-apply within the 6 month period after the expiration date, the Prevention Specialist must go through the initial certification process. You would have to re-apply/apply anew for your credential meeting all current requirements. Request a re-application by emailing cps@preventionworksvt.org.

Recertification Extensions

The expiration date of a Prevention Certification may be extended for up to 90 days under the following conditions:

- g) A medical condition, documented by a physician, which has severely limited normal activities for at least 30 days within the last 180 days prior to the recertification expiration date.
- h) Unemployment for a period of at least 90 days within the year prior to the expiration date.

RECIPROCITY INTO VERMONT

Addiction professionals certified by an IC&RC member board who relocate to Vermont or who work in Vermont 51% of their time, may transfer their credential to VPCB using the reciprocity process. No additional requirements will have to be met by the certified professional using this process to transfer their credential to Vermont. To begin the reciprocity process, certified addiction professionals must contact their current credentialing board and request a reciprocity application. Upon completion of the reciprocity application by both the certified addiction professional and the current credentialing board and upon receipt of this information by VCPB, VCPB will then issue the certified addiction professional the equivalent credential offered by VCPB. There is a required $150 fee to the IC&RC.

RECIPROCITY OUT OF VERMONT

Addiction professionals certified by VPCB who relocate to another state, country, or nation may transfer their credential to the new jurisdiction using the reciprocity process only if the new jurisdiction is an IC&RC member board. Reciprocity to a non-IC&RC member board is not permitted. Additional requirements may be imposed upon the certified addiction professional depending on the laws and regulations governing the practice of addiction related services in the new jurisdiction. Therefore, certified addiction professionals are strongly encouraged to contact the IC&RC member board in the new jurisdiction to determine if any additional requirements must be met. To begin the reciprocity process, certified addiction professionals must contact VPCB via email at cps@preventionworksvermont.org and request a reciprocity application. Upon completion of the reciprocity application by both the certified addiction professional and VPCB and upon receipt of this information by the certification board in the new jurisdiction, that board will then issue the certified addiction professional the equivalent credential offered unless laws or regulations governing the practice of addiction related services in the new jurisdiction must first be met.

CODE OF ETHICAL STANDARDS

Preamble

The principles of ethics are models of exemplary professional behavior. These principles of the Prevention Think Tank Code express prevention professionals' recognition of responsibilities to the public, to service recipients, and to colleagues within and outside of the prevention field. They guide prevention professionals in the performance of their professional responsibilities and express the basic tenets of ethical and professional conduct. The principles call for honorable behavior, even at the sacrifice of personal advantage. These principles should not be regarded as limitations or restrictions, but as goals toward which prevention professionals should constantly strive. They are guided by core values and competencies that have emerged with the development of the prevention field.

Principles

Principle 1: Non-discrimination

A prevention specialist shall not discriminate against service recipients or colleagues based on race, religion, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, economic condition or physical, medical or mental disability. A prevention specialist should broaden his or her understanding and acceptance of cultural and individual differences, and in so doing render services and provide information sensitive to those differences. Prevention specialists shall be knowledgeable about disabling conditions, demonstrate empathy and personal emotional comfort in interactions with participants with disabilities, and make available physical, sensory, and cognitive accommodations that allow individuals with disabilities to receive services. Prevention specialists should comply with all local, state and Federal laws regarding the accommodation of individuals with disabilities.

Principle 2: Competency

Prevention specialists shall master their prevention specialists body of knowledge and skill competencies, strive continually to improve personal proficiency and quality of service delivery, and discharge professional responsibility to the best of their ability. Competence includes a synthesis of education and experience combined with an understanding of the cultures within which prevention application occurs. The maintenance of competence requires continual learning and professional improvement throughout one's career.

Incompetence includes but is not limited to a substantial lack of knowledge or ability to discharge professional obligations within the scope of the prevention profession, or a substantial deviation from the standards of skill ordinarily possessed and applied by professional peers acting in the same or similar circumstances.

- A. Professionals should be diligent in discharging responsibilities. Diligence imposes the responsibility to render services carefully and promptly, to be thorough, and to observe applicable technical and ethical standards.
- B. Due care requires a professional to plan and supervise adequately and evaluate to the extent possible any professional activity for which he or she is responsible.
- C. A prevention specialist should recognize limitations and boundaries of competencies and not use techniques or offer services outside of his or her competencies. Each professional is responsible for assessing the adequacy of his or her own competence for the responsibility to be assumed. When asked to perform such services, a prevention specialist shall, to the best of their ability, refer to an appropriately qualified professional. When no such professional exists, a prevention specialist shall clearly notify the requesting person/organization of the gap in services available.
- D. Ideally prevention specialists should be supervised by competent senior prevention specialists. When this is not possible, prevention specialists should seek peer supervision or mentoring from other competent prevention specialists.
- E. When a prevention specialist has knowledge of unethical conduct or practice on the part of an agency or prevention specialist, he or she has an ethical responsibility to report the conduct or practices to funding, regulatory or other appropriate bodies.
- F. A prevention specialist should recognize the effect of impairment on professional performance and should be willing to seek appropriate professional assistance for any form of substance use, psychological impairment, emotional distress, or any other physical related adversity that interferes with their professional functioning.

Principle 3: Integrity

To maintain and broaden public confidence, prevention specialists should perform all responsibilities with the highest sense of integrity. Personal gain and advantage should not subordinate service and the public trust. Integrity can accommodate the inadvertent error and the honest difference of opinion. It cannot accommodate deceit or subordination of principle.

A. All information should be presented fairly and accurately. Each professional should document and assign credit to all contributing sources used in published material or public statements.

B. Prevention specialists should not misrepresent either directly or by implication professional qualifications or affiliations.

C. Where there is evidence of impairment in a colleague or a service recipient, a prevention specialist should be supportive of assistance or treatment.

D. Prevention specialists should not be associated directly or indirectly with any service, products, individuals, and organizations in a way that is misleading.

E. Prevention specialists should demonstrate integrity through dutiful cooperation in the ethics process of their certifying authority.

1. Prevention specialists must cooperate with duly constituted professional ethics committees and promptly supply necessary information unless constrained by the demands of confidentiality.

2. Grounds for discipline include failing to cooperate with an investigation by interfering with an investigation or disciplinary proceeding by willful misrepresentation of facts before the disciplining authority or its authorized representatives; by use of threats or harassment against any participant to prevent them from providing evidence in a disciplinary proceeding or any person to prevent or attempt to prevent a disciplinary proceeding or other legal action from being filed, prosecuted or completed; failing to cooperate with a board investigation in any material respect.

3. Applicants for prevention certification are required to report any previous ethical violations from other disciplines or jurisdictions during the application process. The Ethics Committee is responsible for making a recommendation concerning the application. The applicant is responsible for providing any additional information needed to make a determination on the application.

4. If a prevention specialist is cited for an ethical violation from another discipline or jurisdiction, they must immediately report the violation to their certifying authority.

5. As employees or members of organizations, prevention specialists shall refuse to participate in an employer's practices which are inconsistent with the ethical standards enumerated in this Code.

F. Prevention specialists shall not engage in conduct which does not meet the generally accepted standards of practice for the prevention profession including, but not limited to, incompetence, negligence or malpractice.

1. Falsifying, amending or making incorrect essential entries or failing to make essential entries of services provided.
2. Acting in such a manner as to present a danger to public health or safety, or to any participant including, but not limited to, impaired behavior, incompetence, negligence or malpractice, such as:
 - a. Failing to comply with a term, condition or limitation on a certification or license.
 - b. Suspension, revocation, probation or other restrictions on any professional certification or licensure imposed by any state or jurisdiction, unless such action has been satisfied and/or reversed.
 - c. Administering to oneself any controlled substance not prescribed by a doctor, or aiding and abetting another person in the use of any controlled substance not prescribed to that person.
 - d. Using any drug or alcoholic beverage to the extent or in such manner as to be dangerous or injurious to self or others, or to the extent that such use impairs the ability of such person to safely provide professional services.
 - e. Using drugs while providing professional services.

G. Prevention specialists make financial arrangements for services with service recipients and third party payers that are reasonably understandable and conform to accepted professional practices. Prevention specialists:

1. Do not offer, give or receive commissions, rebates or other forms of remuneration for the referral of program participants.
2. Do not charge excessive fees for services.
3. Disclose any fees to participants at the beginning of services.
4. Do not enter into personal financial arrangements with direct program recipients.
5. Represent facts truthfully to participants and funders
6. Do not personally accept a private fee or any other gift or gratuity for professional work.

H. Prevention specialists uphold the law and have high morals in both professional and personal conduct. Grounds for discipline include, but are not limited to, conviction of any felony or misdemeanor during the period in which a prevention specialist holds a prevention certification, excluding minor traffic offenses, whether or not the case is pending an appeal.

Principle 4: Nature of Services

Practices shall do no harm to service recipients. Services provided by prevention specialists shall be respectful and non-exploitive.

A. Services should be provided in a way which preserves the protective factors inherent in each culture and individual.

B. Prevention specialists should use formal and informal structures to receive and incorporate input from service recipients in the development, implementation and evaluation of prevention services.

C. Where there is suspicion of abuse of children or vulnerable adults, the prevention specialist shall report the evidence to the appropriate agency and follow up to ensure that appropriate action has been taken.

D. Prevention specialists should adhere to the same principles of professionalism outlined in the Prevention Code of Ethics online as they would offline. With this in mind, the following are additional guidelines regarding the use of technology:

1. Prevention specialists are discouraged from interacting with current or past direct program participants on personal social networking sites. It is recommended that prevention specialists establish a professional social networking site for this purpose.

- a. Prevention specialists should not affiliate with their own direct program recipients on personal social media sites.

- b. Prevention specialists use professional and ethical judgment when including photos and/or comments online or in prevention materials.

- c. Prevention specialists should not provide their personal contact information to direct program recipients, i.e. home/personal cell phone number, personal email, social media accounts, etc. nor engage in communication with direct program participants through these mediums except in cases of agency/professional business

2. It is the responsibility of the prevention specialist to ensure, to the best of his or her ability, that professional networks used for sharing confidential information are secure and that only verified and registered users have access to the information.

3. Prevention specialists should be aware that any information they post on a social networking site may be disseminated (whether intended or not) to a larger audience, and that what they say may be taken out of context or remain publicly available online in perpetuity. When posting content online, they should always remember that they are representing the prevention field, their organization and their community, and so should always act professionally and take caution not to post information that is ambiguous or that could be misconstrued or taken out of context. It is recommended that employees not identify themselves as connected to their agency on their personal website.

4. Employees should be aware that employers may reserve the right to edit, modify, delete, or review Internet communications and that writers assume all risks related to the security, privacy and confidentiality of their posts. When moderating any website, the prevention specialist should delete inaccurate information or other's posts that violate the privacy and confidentiality of participants or that are of an unprofessional nature.

5. Prevention specialists should refer, as appropriate, to an employer's social media or social networking policy for direction on the proper use of social media and social networking in relation to their employment.

E. Prevention Specialists must be aware of their influential position with respect to direct program recipients, and they avoid exploiting the trust and dependency of such persons. Prevention specialists, therefore, make every effort to avoid dual relationships with prevention participants that could impair professional judgment or increase the risk of exploitation. When a dual relationship cannot be avoided, Prevention Specialists take appropriate professional precautions to ensure judgment is not impaired and no exploitation occurs. Examples of such dual relationships include, but are not limited to, business or close personal relationships with direct prevention recipients and/or their family members.

1. Soliciting and/or engaging in sexual conduct with direct prevention participants are prohibited.

2. Prevention specialists should avoid any action or activity that would indicate a dual relationship and transgress the boundaries of a professional relationship (e.g. developing a friendship with a program participant, socializing with participants, accepting or requesting services from a participant, providing "informal counseling" to a participant.)

3. Prevention specialists should not assume dual roles in a setting that could compromise the relationship with or confidentiality of participants (e.g. providing a skills group for students engaging in risky substance use behaviors, an "indicated population," and also teaching an academic subject where they are class members.)

4. Prevention specialists avoid bringing personal issues into the professional relationship. Through an awareness of the impact of stereotyping and discrimination, the prevention specialist guards the individual rights and personal dignity of participants.

F. Prevention specialists should be aware of their influential position with respect to employees and supervisees, and they avoid exploiting the trust and dependency of such persons. Prevention specialists make every effort to avoid dual relationships that could impair professional judgment or increase the risk of exploitation. When a dual relationship cannot be avoided, prevention specialists take appropriate professional precautions to ensure judgment is not impaired and no exploitation occurs. Examples of such dual relationships include, but are not limited to, business or close personal relationships with employees or supervisees.

1. Sexual conduct with employees or supervisees is prohibited.
2. Prevention specialists do not permit students, employees, or supervisees to perform or to hold themselves out as competent to perform professional services beyond their training, level of experience and competence.
3. Prevention specialists who supervise others accept the obligation to facilitate further professional development of these individuals by providing accurate and current information, timely evaluations, and constructive consultation.

G. Prevention specialists make reasonable arrangements for the continuation of prevention services when transitioning to a new position or no longer able to provide that service.

H. Prevention specialists should obtain written, informed consent from participants and/or parents/guardians for those under the age of 18 before photographing, videotaping, audio recording, or permitting third-party observations.

Principle 5: Confidentiality

Confidential information acquired during service delivery shall be safeguarded from disclosure, including – but not limited to – verbal disclosure, unsecured maintenance of records, or recording of an activity or presentation without appropriate releases. Prevention specialists are responsible for knowing the confidentiality regulations relevant to their prevention specialty.

Prevention specialists make appropriate provisions for the maintenance of confidentiality and the ultimate disposition of confidential records. Prevention specialists ensure that data obtained including program evaluation data and any form of electronic communication, are secured by the available security methodology. Data shall be limited to information that is necessary to and appropriate to the services being provided and be accessible only to appropriate personnel. Data presented publicly shall be distributed only in ways that protects the confidentiality of individual participants.

Principle 6: Ethical Obligations for Community and Society

According to their consciences, prevention specialists should be proactive on public policy and legislative issues. The public welfare and the individual's right to services and personal wellness should guide the efforts of prevention specialists to educate the general public and policy makers. Prevention specialists should adopt a personal and professional stance that promotes health.

Prevention Specialists should be aware of their local and national regulations regarding lobbying and advocacy, and act within the laws and funding guidelines.

- b. A request for reinstatement shall be initiated by the Respondent. A letter of application for reinstatement shall present facts which, if established, will be sufficient to enable the Board to determine that the basis for sanction no longer exists.

Possible Consideration Following Revocation: It is recognized that there may be mitigating circumstances which could warrant granting permission to apply for certification following revocation.

- a. Permission to apply for certification following revocation may be considered only after two years have lapsed from the date of the Board's final decision.
- b. Permission to seek certification following revocation is granted solely within the discretion of the Board.
