REFERENCES

Only three levels of headings should be listed in the Table of Contents: chapter or chapter equivalent headings, section headings and subsection headings.

To create additional entries for chapter/section/subsection headings, copy an already existing entry of the desired type and paste it below the others. Edit the copied line as needed.

Table of Contents look best when there is at least one inch of space between the end of a heading and the page number. Edit long headings so that they do not extend into the space for page numbers. Continue long headings on a second line single-spaced below the first line, with the first letter of the second line aligned directly below the first letter of the first line.

Page numbers should align with the last line of the entry.
