

2nd Annual r/nightattheopera Scenario Contest

This contest is dedicated to all the Agents who never made it home from their first night at the opera.

Note: Submissions are now closed. Find submitted scenarios at the end of this document.

/r/nightattheopera is an open table RPG community that utilizes a living world where Delta Green Agents and Operations take place in the same linear (or non-linear, non-Euclidean) timeline. This allows Agents to fully experience the horrors the Delta Green RPG has to offer. For more info, check out the intro page here or come chat with us in Discord here or the Reddit discussion thread here.

In honor of being around for another whole year, running games, ruining agents, and building a community of Handlers and Agents we're holding a Scenario Contest.

Contest Rules: First off, no length restriction, go crazy (or don't, you're a human being with the ability to make rational choices, right?). However, scenarios must contain at least three of the following themes or features.

- Numbers stations
- The 1980s
- Ghosts of Delta Green's Past
- Creatures from American folklore
- Lovecraft Country
- Cold Case
- Where am I?
- A Man Ain't Nothing but his Mind
- 21st Century Conspiracy Theories
- For the love of God, Montresor.
- A March Tech Shell Company
- The End of the World

These features must be integral to the scenario, not just window dressing (For example: An operation where the agents are dispatched via a numbers station isn't integral, but an operation where a numbers station hides important clues is integral.)

We ask that if you playtest your scenario online, that you do it at r/nightattheopera. It's just a request, not a demand though. We added flair so you can mark games as contest playtests.

This year we will crown a single winner who will receive a $20 drivethrurpg.com gift card and will be featured on the Roleplaying Public Radio Podcast. Big thanks to Shane Ivey of Arc Dream and Ross Payton of RPPR for again sponsoring this contest.

Submissions are due as a google doc to elendil004@gmail.com by 2359 ZULU, 28 February, 2019, and the winner will be announced on 18 March, 2019 (the anniversary of our first game). Submissions will be voted on by active members of the community (Anyone who Handled, or Agented in an r/nightattheopera game in December ('18), January ('19), or February ('19) will be eligible to cast a vote. Voting will run from 1 March until either it's finished or 17 March, whichever happens first.

Note: Eligible voters will be notified by either reddit message or discord message and must ensure that the Handler Resources reflects a username by which they can be found.

Winning Scenario: Operation God Object A.K.A. –“Wet-weiR:-D”- by Agent_Obtuse - After a massive cyber-attack ripples across the government and hack the Program's own secure network, orders are given to bring the culprits to justice before the regular authorities find them

Submitted Scenarios:

1. The Mind Electric by Mellonbread - Agents are trapped in a mental hospital, and the corridors of their own mind.
2. There's Gold in Witch Hill? by Kevin Ham - Agents must deliver a hundred-year-old package and deal with an ancient threat.
3. Tower of Babel by Mellonbread - A disturbing utopia in the middle of New York Bay hides an ancient secret.
4. Sex Tape by Mellonbread - In 198X, a new form of adult entertainment has dangerously addictive consequences
5. The Limo by Mellonbread - In 1992, an Agent assumes the identity of a reclusive celebrity
6. Lucy in the Sky With ZIRCONS by Mellonbread & Tormsen - A space odyssey to an alien black knight satellite, reactivated by parties unknown for sinister purposes
7. Satanic Panic by WillZuma - 1984: Delta Green is sent to help their oldest ally, Miskatonic University, investigate and clear all allegations from a moral panic, but is there more going on beneath the surface?
8. Migo Killed the Radio Star by Mellonbread - In 1994, a radio station in the North Maine Woods agitates the locals and draws unwanted attention
9. Wrong Place, Worse Time by Korie Khanyers - A car accident and a robbery turns into a siege of Agents by hostile, hungry forces in the desert.
10. Junction House by Christopher Reed - A reopened casefile leads agents to a historic landmark with an atrocious history and an even more disturbing future.
11. The One That Got Away by Magnificentophat - An invisible creature stalks the Agents on an oil rig.
12. Operation Pellucid Frond \(God Coming Through the Roof Tonight\) by Zomner - Agents are sent to investigate a dead man found inside of wall of a small house in a community of homeless people, where something seems to be haunting its residents
13. That Song That Gets Stuck In Your Head by MeatofMeat - A called in favor leads Agents to a slippery slope with an unknown group. Who they are and what they are are a mystery, but for how long before it all goes up in flames.
14. Dark Tales and Green Scales: A PISCES scenario by Tetrarch - A series of killings in Northern Ireland set off alarm bells for PISCES when they're found to match a case some forty years prior.
15. Operation God Object A.K.A. –“Wet-weiR:-D”- by Agent_Obtuse - After a massive cyber-attack ripples across the government and hack the Program's own secure network, orders are given to bring the culprits to justice before the regular authorities find them.
16. Mr. Fish Goes to Washington / Operation SWAMP HOLD by Jake “ChiefMcClane” Cook - A U.S. Senator on the Program's watchlist is exhibiting some unusual behavior.
