Join The World At Your Door Challenge

Hey there [RECIPIENT],

I've been counting down the days till it was time to send you this invitation!

More and more, I'm becoming passionate about the vision for reaching the nations through the international students, immigrants, and refugees in our midst.

So any time a new resource comes out to help advance this cause, it thrills me to tell everyone about it!

Introducing The World At Your Door Challenge.

My invitation is to register for a free online workshop, hosted by Tyler Ellis.

It's called The World At Your Door Challenge: Five Opportunities That Are Awakening Christians to the Goodness of Cultures They've Never Known, and Introducing Newcomers to the Good News of Jesus They've Never Heard.

I met Tyler [SHARE WHEN AND WHERE YOU MET TYLER].

He has been in ministry for nearly 25 years, including mission work in a number of countries, and 14 years as a College Ministry. He is probably best-known for his rare TEDx Talk, in which he became the first speaker - to my knowledge - to present the gospel from the TEDx stage.

Today, Tyler serves as the Founder and Director of an amazing new ministry called English With Friends (which I'm sure he will tell you more about).

This event could mark your life's next defining moment!

Are you caught in the tension of feeling deep concern for those around the world who've never heard of Jesus, while wondering what you can personally do about it?

Can you imagine what it would feel like to personally befriend one individual from another country in a way that celebrated the significance of all their culture has to offer, and prepared the way for them to experience all that Jesus has to offer... right where you are today?

- Without moving overseas.
- Without spending thousands of dollars.
- Without learning a new language.

If you're ready for your life's next defining moment, then accept the challenge and sign up today for The World At Your Door Challenge! [ADD THE LINK TO THE WORDS IN BLUE]
