Sample Text #2:

In Afghanistan, women and girls continue to face devastating restrictions on their education, work, freedom, and daily lives, but they continue to show extraordinary resilience.

I'm joining Together Women Rise on August 12 for an important conversation with organizations working alongside Afghan communities to understand what's happening, how they're adapting, and how we can continue supporting women and girls in Afghanistan.

I hope you'll join me for this meaningful discussion. Register here: [\[LINK\]](#)
