Cigars By the Box?

Cigars are usually sold in two ways: individually or in boxes of around 20 cigars.

When considering purchasing a box of cigars you want to make sure you really want 20+ of those cigars. Do you like them that much? Do you have a humidor properly set-up and ready to keep cigars fresh until you get around to smoking them?

The biggest reason why a person might purchase cigars in bulk is simply to save a few dollars and avoid the many trips your local cigar shop. Even though sometimes that's the fun going and shooting the breeze with your buddies at the cigar shop.

Having said all that, I've outlined couple of pros and cans to buying in bulk.

Pros:

Saves money

Have easy access so you won't have to continually run to the cigar shop.

Can age more cigars giving them more flavor

Cons:

If you don't have a proper humidor you won't be able to keep them fresh.

That's a lot of money to put into cigars if you end up not liking them or you get tired of that brand. Make sure you really like them before you buy an entire box of one type of cigar (or make sure your poker buddies will help you smoke them!) So that's that! Let us know if you would like to hear our opinion on something else!
