

Summer Beach Reading Bingo!

11th-grade Edition

The rules are simple: Get five in a row in any direction and you “win”! A title can only be used once (even if it could technically be used twice). These should be new to you titles (unless specified otherwise in the prompt). Warning: You’ll likely feel incredibly accomplished and thoroughly entertained. Be prepared to report on your books (titles, authors, insights) on the second day of school. You’ll read five books in total over the course of the summer.

B	I	N	G	O
Book with a single word title	A book with a number in the title	A book where the character struggles with a parent/child relationship	Images on the cover that involves something magical	A book suggested by someone over the age of 50 that they either read as a teen or wish they did
Book with the word “Lost” or “Missing” in the title	A book where the characters live in the city	A graphic novel	A celebrity’s memoir or autobiography	Book where an animal plays a key role in the plot
Romance or Rom-Com	A book with a person or place as a part of a title	FREE CHOICE [your pick!]	Book where the character is trying to learn about their past	Yellow or orange cover
A book that involves outdoor adventure	A book written in verse	A book that is at least 400 pages	Listen to a book read by a famous person	Fantasy
Something by a Bronte or Toni Morrison	Something from the Amazon top 25 books (in any category)	Mystery	Non-fiction	Something by Steinbeck or Hemingway