2/11/2025

Parents, Guardians, and Patrons of Little Axe Public Schools,

With National Weather Service winter weather advisories in effect for our area, as well as treacherous driving conditions forecasted for the morning, Little Axe Public Schools will transition to remote learning for tomorrow, Wednesday, 2/12/25.

Teachers will be making remote learning assignments available for students. Please ensure that your child is completing the assignments that are given. Check with your child's teacher or office (via email) if you have any questions during the remote learning day.

Sincerely,

Dr. Jay Thomas Superintendent Little Axe Public Schools
