

Vallarant

Summary

This is a not big island. On this island there is a small village and forest. The villagers use forest to eat and sell it. There is a portal in the depths of the magical forest, if you enter it you will find yourself in the ancient ruins of an underground city. There are rare recipes and blueprints in these ruins, but there are also dangerous creatures in it. Treasure seekers come from the mainland and try to get these recipes, but they do not know about the evil ghost who lives in this dungeon and who will kill anyone who disturbs his peace.

Geography

The island is in the ocean, that is called Annamar, in the south-east. The village is situated in the southwest of the island. There are several houses in it, a church, a school, and a shop. Near the village there is a field with corns and vegetables, a road to a sandy beach. Behind the village there is an apple tree garden. There is a bridge across the river between the village and the magical forest. In this forest live wild animals. Here you can find a portal to an ancient ruins with golden treasures.

Climate

The weather here is different every day. Some days are sunny with clear sky and temperature about 25 degrees. We have apple tree' garden, when someone takes an apple, the good weather changes to the bad one. It gets foggy and cloudy. When the ghost goes out from the magic portal, the hurricane hits the ocean coast. Once in 3 years, a mild winter begins on our island. And everyone prepares to celebrate New Year. People are happy with snowy days.

Natural resources

On the beach, villagers mine salt and sell it over the country. Salt in this world values higher than gold because jewellery loses in rarity and usefulness compared to salt. Each year, the island has silver deposits that residents actively exploit. With this silver, they create jewellery, mirrors, and some primitive devices and scientific reagents that are not found on other continents. If gold is purchased from Light to Dark, the potential of silver increases even more. Throughout the island, there are places rich in clay, from which unique ceramic dishes and busts are made, and bricks are used to build houses and other structures. From the dungeon, we extract a unique material called valorit, which is difficult to mine. The best armor and weapons in this world are made from it; this material has no equal in strength and elasticity, but its processing requires special techniques.

Plants

BIRCHES

Then The Great Raven lost his eyes, he was very angry. So he decided to cry. Cry So much to kill everyone alive. But his son saved us again – he has drunk all of water. Salt of tears are birches. Why trees have dark spots? Then people lived in the North of Vallarant, they were very stupid and Small Raven decided to burn all of them. There was A Great Fire.

WHEAT

There isn't any special story about. But there is a poem

Wheat –
Is always to eat,
And beer is nice thing
Always to drink!

ROSES

Roses grow in the garden. They are red in color. After five days of their existence, they burn down. This color is believed to be the blood of The Great Raven. There is a legend that roses protect people from ghosts, including the ghost of The Great Raven.

BLUEBERRIES

Blueberries grow in the forest. They are very tasty, but are guarded by thickets of nettle through which is almost impossible to pass.

Animals

COW

This island has an amazing animal — a cow. It's really useful to people who live there, as it gives milk and food (sometimes) to people. People who live on the island take care of their cows, cause they have a believe that they're not just any animal — they are homekeepers, who protect humans from dangers.

CHICKEN

People on this island also take care of chickens. Chickens give people eggs as food, and also there are something really special about them. Chicken who live on this island can swim and dive, while their ability to fly worsens over time. Also, they're too large compared to average chickens, but everyone got used to it.

CROCODILE

Crocodiles who live on this island are strange to say least. They have two-dimensional head and tail and their teeth are so dull that no one is afraid of them. They also have an important role in ecosystem — they eat really big insects that live on this island, which makes people's work easier (the insects are parasites).

BEETLE

There are so many types of beetles in this island, but every one of them are known for their large size. Some of these insects are harmless, some eat people's crops, and some... let's just say you gotta stay away from them.
