ABSTRACT

Type your abstract here not more than 250 words. The abstract should be brief and consists of some elements, includes: Background, Aim, Method, Finding, and Conclusion. The abstract is presented separately from the main article, so it must be able to stand alone. For this reason, citations should be avoided. Furthermore, non-standard or uncommon abbreviations should be avoided, but if essential they must be defined at their first mention in the abstract itself.

A. INTRODUCTION

Please use this Template to prepare your manuscript and do not alter or change the format. Manuscript in English is preferred. Should you have any question regarding the Template or manuscript's format, please contact the Editor. The manuscript's length should be within 6000-7000 words totally (references included). Use effective and concise sentences, and avoid writing redundant sentences in your manuscript.

In the Introduction section, state the objectives of the work and provide an adequate background, avoiding a detailed literature survey or a summary of the results. Explain how you addressed the problem in the field and clearly state the specific aims of your study.

B. LITERATURE REVIEW

This section presents a review of previous researches or literatures which discuss relevant theme. It is recommended to discuss new literatures from journal, proceeding, thesis or dissertation.

C. METHOD

In the Method section, state what the method or approach was used in the study, how the data was collected, and how it was analyzed.

D. RESULT AND DISCUSSION

The result should be clear and brief. It presents logical presentation of the data and/or information. Factual description of the data describes what the study found.

The Discussion should explore the significance of the results/findings of the work, not repeat them. It should present a summary of findings, interpretation upon the data, the similarities/differences, unexpected/negative results, and analysis based on the certain theory, approach and/or concept.

All citations must be completed with their sources, and in-text citations use run note. Citation of books should be completed with the page information. All cited sources must be presented in the references list based on APA reference style. We put concern on integrity issue in writing manuscript, and therefore plagiarism checking is applied to all manuscripts before they are approved.

Sub Section

It is allowed to make Sub Sections (if required) within each section. Author can add relevant Sub Sections and the title must be relevant with the content.

Table and Graphic

Table and graphic can be used to present numeric data. The title of the table and the graphic is put on the top, while the source is under the table or graph (see examples). It is a compulsory to put data source if author puts the table or the graphic in the manuscript.

E. CONCLUSION

The conclusion of the study should be presented in the Conclusion section. The conclusion section should lead the reader to important matter of the paper. Present global and specific conclusions, but do not summarize the paper. The conclusions should address the problems and aims which have been stated in the Introduction.

It also can be followed by suggestion or recommendation (if any) for decision maker or further research, but it is optional.

Acknowledgement

In the Acknowledgement section, recognize those who helped Author(s) in the study, but do not qualify them as authors. List here those organizations or individuals who provided help during the research and manuscript writing (e.g., advisors, proofreaders, sponsors, etc.).

Contributorship

If the authors are more than one, the manuscript should be completed with information about the contribution of each author. Please use this sub section to describe the authors' contributions or roles in writing the manuscript respectively.

REFERENCES

Presenting a list of reference is a compulsory. It is recommended to use a reference management software or tool in order to make sure that all citations are matched with the reference list. The reference should be presented in APA style. The references should be listed at the end of the paper, and should be listed alphabetically by author's surname. Authors should ensure that every reference or citation in the text appears in the list of references and vice versa. Wikipedia, personal blog, or non-scientific websites are not allowed to be taken into account.
