SAFM READER'S REPORT FORM - CONFIDENTIAL

Please complete this form electronically and return it to aartiwani@gmail.com as an email attachment. It will not be shared with anyone else. You may also use the tracking tool to comment directly on the paper and send it as an attachment along with this form.

Please bear in mind that we are looking to publish articles by established academics, junior scholars, postgraduate students and practitioners. It is to be expected that some of the prospective submissions will come from those who are less experienced in journal publications than others. Your report will be used as a means of offering a constructive criticism to the authors with the view to help them improve their manuscript. In case of a conflict of interest with an article that you have been asked to review, we request that you make the editors aware of this straightaway.

We will forward your comments to the author of the manuscript anonymously. In your evaluation of the manuscript, please keep the following criteria in mind, where appropriate.

1. Importance of the subject
2. Relevancy for readers of SAFM
3. Soundness of the scholarship displayed
4. Meaningful engagement with international scholarship
5. Quality of article structure and style
6. Theoretical contribution
