

KidLitCares for Oklahoma - May, 2013

If you'd like to donate a signed book to someone who makes a $10 or more donation to the American Red Cross, please list your name (donor), the title, the book's author (if you're donating a signed book that you didn't write), whether it's YA, MG, or PB, and your email address in the document below.

Here's how it'll work.... I will publicize the donation drive with a blog post & tweets listing donors & books and asking people to donate to the Red Cross relief effort in Oklahoma. People who donate will send an email with their receipts to the KidLitCares gmail account to enter the drawing. At the end of the two-week period, on June 7th, I'll draw a name from the full list of donors to win each donated signed book. I'll contact the winner and cc you, the donor on that email, so that the winner can share his or her mailing address and you can send the book.

I'm also going to touch base with Oklahoma's Pioneer Library System to see when and if they'd like us to send some signed books, either to add to their collections for the families they serve, or to give away to displaced families. So if you'd like to donate a second signed book to this effort, I'll share more details later.

By listing your information below, you agree to the following:

- I will donate a signed book to a KidLitCares Red Cross donor drawn at random
- I will mail that signed book to that person myself before June 20th. (US addresses only)
- I may also choose to donate a second signed book to the Pioneer Library System, which serves the families affected in Moore and Oklahoma City for use in the libraries or to distribute to displaced families. This is optional - details to come later, after initial needs are met & I hear from libraries. I'll send you an email with info then.
