

Week 6 Overview + Course Materials

We are halfway there! This week we are exploring deviance and stratification. This week in chapter 7, we are focusing on how deviance is constructed, and the relationship between our criminal justice system and the identities individuals hold.

Quick Overview of Week 6:

- We'll focus on Chapter 7 in our textbook.
- Your Week 6 News Analysis is due on Friday
- Your review of the NA of three peers is due by Sunday
- You will also engage in Peer Review of your assigned Research Teaching Project Rough Draft

Learning Objectives

1. Explain how deviance is socially constructed and ways that social control is enforced
2. Examine the relationship between race, identity, and the U.S. criminal justice system
3. Describe challenges to the contemporary U.S. criminal justice system

Course Materials

Read:

- Chapter 7: Deviance, Crime, and Social Control. As you engage this chapter, focus on the relationship between socially constructed identities and our criminal justice system.