

Predator Type

Catfisher: Manipulation + Technology: You take your time to develop a number of personas online, and use these false identities on social media and forums to develop friendships with kine. You develop these connections to the point that a person-to-person meeting can happen, which can be taken advantage of for feeding. The benefit of doing this is that you are able to control many of the factors involved in feeding, such as the time and location.

- Add a speciality: Insight (loneliness) or Technology (social media)
- Gain one dot in Dominate or Obfuscate
- Gain the Mask 1 dot Merit.
- Gain the Enemy Flaw 1 dot, a spurned lover.

Such a vampire using the internet in this manner is in no greater risk of being caught by the authorities than a depraved mortal who also uses the internet to groom targets for their own vile urges. A vampire however should be careful in this use of hunting. You do not have people to feed on at the drop of a hat. Potential victims need to be prepared over many weeks if not months. The benefit of your prey coming to you is worth it. However, canny SI agents may well be watching social media, trying to find the patterns within social media conversations that reveal the online hunting practices of a vampire.
