

Dzanie's Terms of Service

By commissioning me you agree to have read, understood, and accept this ToS. This ToS Overrides and voids any client ToS.

Terms of Service are subject to change at any time. It is your responsibility to review the ToS if necessary. However, if a change has been made that I feel will directly affect you, I will contact you accordingly.

Exceptions to my Terms of Service are allowed if discussed between myself, the writer; and you, the commissioner.

General Terms

- I reserve the right to deny your commission without reason.
- If the commission has a time frame and/or needs to be completed at a certain date, you must state this upfront. Please commission at least two weeks in advance.
- I do not work 100% in-list order.
- Please have description(s) of any applicable characters at hand; this may include visual references.
- You may have 2 major edits before you will be charged extra. (eg, personality)
- You may have 4 minor edits before you will be charged extra. (eg, names, pronouns, eye/hair color)
- The story will include my name as an author credit. You may not remove it.
- If I find that you have removed my name from my writing, you may be blacklisted.
- I reserve all rights to my writing.
- You may not sell my writing unless it was discussed prior, and an extra fee was agreed upon.

Payment

- Partial payment is upfront; a second invoice will be sent on commission completion.
- I determine the final price.

- Payment is in USD via Paypal Only.
- I will send you an invoice once a final price is agreed upon.
- Arguing over my pricing may get you blacklisted; if you have a problem with my prices you do not need to commission me. I will not lower them for you.

Cancellations and Refunds

- Either party has the right to cancel the commission at any time, with or without a given reason.
- Cancelled by me - Customer receives full refund, with or without given reason.
- Cancelled by customer, with or without given reason:
 - Refund is determined on progress made on piece, which is decided by the amount of work I have already completed.
 - For a completed piece, there will be no refunds or discounts, this is non-negotiable.
- Spelling and grammar can be fixed on a finished piece.
- If you file a chargeback, you will be blocked, reported, and put on a blacklist. I will also warn others about you, to avoid any other occurrences of this.
- Any refunded/canceled/rejected piece may be repurposed into a YCH. Any resemblance to the original character(s) will be changed. Commissioner reserves no rights to refunded work.

Reposting and Usage

- The commissioner may repost their commission wherever they please, as long as they credit and link back to my account.
- You may only repost if you commissioned the piece AND/OR your character is in the piece.
- You may not alter the commissioned piece in any way.
- You are not permitted to remove my author credit.
- I retain all copyrights to my artwork.
- By commissioning me you are paying for my time spent making said story, not the copyright to the story. I do not sell copyrights to my writing.
- Be sure to save your commission! I am not responsible for any lost commissions.
- Your commission may be used as examples, showcase pieces, etc. Let me know upfront if this is not acceptable.
