relationships.

MARTIN BRENNER birth father. info coming soon.

CYNTHIA DAVIS birth mother. info coming soon.

RICHARD DAVIS step - father. info coming soon.

CAROL DAVIS brenheir. carol is jason's older sister. he doesn't really remember her at first, but does have vague memories of auburn hair and a family. after escaping the lab he runs straight for them, even if he can't be sure it's safe.

JASON'S ONLY A CHILD WHEN HE'S FIRST TAKEN TO THE LAB. a fun trip with his dad and sister, a chance to see his daddy's work - place. he get to 'play' at his work, he hooks jason up to machines and encourages him to try really hard. and jason does. he does everything his daddy tells him. sometimes it hurts, and things feel wrong, but he still does as he's told. bloody noses and headaches don't seem to worry his father, in fact they make him proud.

HE'S STILL YOUNG WHEN HIS MOTHER LEAVES, taking his sister with her. she tries to take jason too, but brenner is so proud of his sons progress that he refuses to let jason go. so carol and their mother start a whole new life, while jason sticks to what he's always known.

MORE TIME IS SPENT IN THE LAB NOW. it's all jason does. he's pulled from school, his father claims to home school him. none of it's true, the only thing brenner does with his son is run tests. constant, unending tests. jason is given a number, told he's number two now. he doesn't understand, but from then on he is only ever called the number.

WHEN HIS POWERS COME THEY COME HARD. flames that reach the top of the room, at least one scientist dead. he's more powerful than they ever imagined. so he's locked up, hidden away. brought out only for more tests and lessons in control. this is life now, fire and darkness and tests. nothing else.

HE HEARS THAT A GIRL ESCAPED. number eleven. he doesn't ask questions, assumes she'll be back in only a few days. but she doesn't come back. and then things are harder. jason's locked away longer hours, tested harder. he always has a guard. he never sees anyone else with a guard, instead the guards are just standing around. but jason's special. he's brenner's biological son. if he gets out, there'd be hell to pay.

AND THEN THE LAB IS TAKEN DOWN. demo-dogs running through the building and tearing apart anything that gets in their way. jason's guard locks himself in jason's room to protect himself, and through the guards radio jason hears that his father is dead. on hearing the news jason's guard promises to make sure that jason would get out alive, opening the room and helping him fight through the halls to get outside. jason's fire abilities mixed with the guards gun make it relatively easy to get outside, the guard taking him to the hawkins police station.

JASON DOESN'T WANT TO GO. doesn't want his guard to leave him. but he has to, can't let jason be without a real family. so jason was dropped at the police station, soon reunited with the family he barely remembered. jason had no idea what his guard got up to after leaving him, but he's made a promise to himself that he'd find the guard again and stay with him. at the end of the day that guard was more of a family to him than carol and his mother were, but jason will admit that living the life of an average teenager was a lot more fun than living in the lab.

canon verses / arcs.

SEASONS ONE & TWO before escaping the lab. jason is an experiment, the biological child of dr brenner, his prized experiment. originally only tested occasionally, but soon becoming his favorite experiment. heightened only when carol and her mother left, jason became all brenner had left. given a number to join the other experiments, jason soon lost all ideas of who he really was. he knew that brenner was his father, had vague memories of a family, but outside of his memories he didn't know what his life was, how much the experiments were affecting him.

SEASON THREE post - lab escape. jason escaped the lab when it was overrun by demo - dogs at the end of season two, jason escaping with the man who had been assigned to guard him. he was dropped at the police station before being taken to his "family". it's carol that opens the door, and it takes hours for everything to be cleared up. their mother had told carol jason was dead, and considering jason hadn't even remembered his own name when he came out of the lab it was a lot for him to accept too. but before he knew it he was in high school and expected to be normal, but how can he be normal considering how drastically abnormal he is?

rules.

MY NAME'S SUNNY D i'm twenty-one, i live in new zealand. i'm a full time student so activity can be flaky. i'm also in the gmt + 12 time - zone so im often on at different hours to everyone else. this blog will be low activity.

JASON IS A CHILD / SIBLING OC i understand if that isn't your thing. no pressure my dudes. he's heavily affiliated with brenheir and likely won't interact with any other carols.

BILLY'S ARE WELCOME i'm not going to turn anyone away because of who they write. i love billy writers and won't tolerate hate.

TRIGGERS WILL BE PRESENT all will be tagged 'trigger //' but they'll be there and they'll be prominent. jason's most prominent triggers will be human experimenting, child abuse and to some extent kidnapping. there will also likely be a lot of violence.

FOLLOWS COME FROM JOCKSAVED at this point in time this is a sideblog and jason is somewhat low activity. you don't have to follow my main blog if you don't want to, but that's where follows come from.

SHIPPING IS ALWAYS WELCOME but jason's underage so no smut. if necessary we'll do a fade to black but jason's not likely to sleep with someone unless they have an established relationship.

exclusives.

these are the only versions of these characters that i will write with, things involving these characters will be considered entirely canon in everything i do with kevin. requires heavy in character and out of character interactions.

up to four versions of the same characters. will still interact with other versions, but these versions take priority. requires some in character and out of character interaction.

BILLY HARGROVE drawcharge.
STEVE HARRINGTON imbullshit.
