1.Orientation

Tom, Harry, David and George were on the St Kentergain rugby field training for their next big rugby game at 12:00 and that was lunch time, OH DEAR!!!!!! The students are coming out to lunch, but luckily it starts to rain. The bell goes, which means it's inside lunch for the students. Tom and the other boys have to still got to train because this game is so important but instead of getting distracted by all the students they want to go to the beach.

2.Introducing the problem:

They decide to go down to the beach and run along the coastline, to take their minds off the ENORMOUS game this week. They don't have much time to train.

3. Problem

When they were halfway through their run... one of them shouts "meteor-shower"!! The meteor shower started to plummet the area and so they needed to find shelter quickly. They ran rapidly back to the school. Then one of the boys spots something and yells, "hey guys,you'll never believe what's back there!" They see a family of friendly sea monsters and they invite two of the sea monsters to come and play rugby with them. While they are coming to shore they get stuck in the mud.

4. Resolution

David has the idea of pulling the monsters out of the mud. It worked! The monsters were free to play rugby with them. The team got there just in time before the game started. They're strong at the scrum shoving the opponents to the ground and charge towards the goal post like a bull trembling the ground as they run. The audience feels a gigantic shudder like a earthquake. Thanks to the monsters the team won the rugby game and the audience chanted hip-hip-hooray!

group Three

He's here...

One Saturday 4 boys were taking a stroll through an abandoned village when they came to a stop at a house burning with green fire. They heard a petrifying scream coming from inside the house. They looked around and saw a dirty hose with a white skeleton next to it. Then the skeleton came to life and grabbed a nearby molten pitchfork and charged at them.

The four boys quickly snatched on to their gold chains and used them as nunchuks against the gruesome skeleton maniac. Then they heard a screech. The skeleton was losing its soul and the misty aurora was going behind him. They left the skeleton to burn to ashes and kept investigating. Then they heard the skeleton fall to the ground and. One of the four boys turned around "Guys you'll never believe what's back there..." he said with a terrified voice.

There he was. The world's worst fear, standing right before him in his very eyes. He had his giant scythe shining with evil, his wrinkly black robes covered his whole dark body. His eyes were the sharpest blade in the world. His bare skull was the most terrifying thing they've ever seen. The only thing that came to their mind was death.

But they were right death was in front of them "Time To Feast" said Death, then he smiled and chuckled then charged at them. The four boys started to sprint towards Eastern beach, they could hear death's scythe starting to rattle, they looked back death had gotten his daggers out.

Then one of the four boys got out a bottle of water and a packet of chips they squeezed and crushed all the ingredients. They knew this was a recipe given to them by their parents for making a portal to the underworld. Death thought this was a trick but as he got to the portal he fell in and screeched loudly. Death had left behind his scythe the 4 boys sighed and started to walk home with the scythe in hand.

Epilogue: After that no one knew where death had gone as he was known a mystery the boys don't know what he might be doing in the underworld, perhaps planning something to feast citizens of the above world or maybe just rotting away.

hint of problem

On a bright spring Saturday morning when five best friends named Flora, Lucy, Alexis, Georgia and Bella went to the beach for a early morning stroll to catch up on the latest gossip. The weather was blue with small white clouds like candy floss. They could smell fresh salty sea. In front of them were newborn ducks that waddled to keep up to their mum.

When they reached the halfway mark of the beach, Georgia looked at her watch, it was 11:30. She asked her friends if they wanted to go to the mall. They all replied with a big "YES!" Bella replied the loudest. They sprinted up the boat ramp and hopped in Georgias sportscar but as Flora got in she spotted a man in a dark cloak, she thought she was just imagining it so she asked all the girls if they saw him and the girls didn't see a speck of the man. As they zoomed off Flora saw the man follow them in his white van but all of a sudden the man turned around. Flora warned her friends but they just said she was imagining it. Flora thought. What would happen next? Would they see him again?

Problem:Then they went to the mall with a kidnapper following them as quiet as a mouse from the beach. later they went shopping in a few shops, then Alexis turned to see that Lucy was missing and they looked through all the shops. Suddenly Alexis turned around to see that Lucy was put into a big sack with string holding the end together.'Guys!You'll never believe what's back there...' they all turned and watched Lucy getting dragged away then put into the boot of a car. The man hopped into his car and Bella said to hop in Bella's car and follow the man wherever he went with Lucy. The man drove Lucy to his house and he told Lucy that she would never see her friends again. The girl wrote down the address of the man's house then drove to Flora's house to come up with a plan. At midnight they would go rescue Lucy!

Resolution:At midnight all of the girls had set an alarm to wake up at 11:00pm. Flora decided to drive in her car to the kidnapper's house. When they got there they saw that all the lights were on. When finally he went to bed, Bella, Flora and Georgia climbed through an open window with Alexis as the lookout for anyone who might come. They got Lucy out just in time because the kidnapper woke up just as they got Lucy out of the bag. They drove to the park to make sure Lucy was okay. after they unwrapped Lucy out of the bag they kept the bag so the kidnapper couldn't kidnap anyone else. They returned Lucy home then went home themselves and went to sleep until the morning.

Stacey,Nikkie,Jacob and Ben are running a marathon together by Loch Ness lake where the legendary Nessie lives. They are still running but they are lagging last. Ben (who is last of the group) hears a faint splashing noise of water slopping on the hard concrete.He tries to ignore it but he feels cold water running down his soft neck. He can't resist the urging temptation to turn around and have a look at what was making that splashing noise. Ben turns around swiftly. His mouth drops like a drawbridge, he can't believe what was waiting behind him.

It was the legendary Nessie. She stood tall like a giraffe it was very intimidating for Ben. Nessie had flippers like a seal and moved like one on land too. she had water dripping from her tail like a waterfall at rotorua. "Guys! You'll never believe what is back there,"Cried Ben.

The rest of the crew ignored him as Ben had a wild imagination sometimes.Ben ran fast as he could since nessie was behind him, and she moved surprisingly fast. He freaked out so he kept on running towards the crew. Next thing you know that the crew was facing the ultimate raft of the beast. Ben had to try rescue them. Luckily Ben knew that loch ness monsters are easily lulled to sleep by the loch ness monster whistle ,but where can he find a whistle?

Suddenly, Ben saw the loch ness monster whistle squashed in between the rocks. It looked very old and mouldy like it had been there for hundreds of years.Ben didn't know how to play the whistle but the crew was in danger so he still had to try.

When Ben got the whistle the monster was already playing with the rest of the crew like a cat playing with a ball. The group was looking very seasick. Nikki said "play...the...whistle...NOW! bozo.....So he started playing the whistle.It sounded horrible. But that was good. because nessie looked like she was about VOMIT! Nessie dropped the friends and went back to sleep. Then Ben surprisingly spitted the mould out of his foul tasting mouth.
