

Linux

Fedora 42+ with KDE \(Wayland\)

Ubuntu 22 & 24 with GNOME \(Wayland\)

Debian 12+

SUSE

Missing distro?

MacOS

Windows 10 & 11

Linux

Fedora 42+ with KDE (Wayland)

1. (Close existing TimeCamp app if it's running)

2. Download RPM installer
3. https://timecamp-public-desktop-app.s3.us-east-1.amazonaws.com/timecamp-desktop/prod-9eba558e/2025-10-27-13_01-master-1.8.4.0/timecamp-1.8.4.0-1.fc42.x86_64-fedora42.rpm
4. Open Terminal
5. Go to folder with downloaded file: cd ~/Downloads
6. Run installer: sudo dnf -y install ./timecamp.rpm (change `timecamp.rpm` to proper file name, if it's already installed you can write sudo dnf reinstall)
7. Find and start TimeCamp app

Ubuntu 22 & 24 with GNOME (Wayland)

1. Install Window Calls Extended GNOME extension

To enable time tracking for applications on the Ubuntu (>=21.04) or Debian, you need to install a GNOME extension that allows Timecamp to gather the necessary information:

1. Open the "Terminal" app.
2. Copy the following command and paste it into the terminal, then press Enter:
sudo apt install -y gnome-shell-extension-manager
The command may require administrator privileges, so you might need to enter the administrator password.
3. Open the "Extension Manager" app.
4. Go to the Browse tab and search for hseliger in the search field.
5. Click "Install" next to the extension "Window Calls Extended".

Once the extension is installed, the application should automatically start collecting and sending information about open programs.

2. Install TimeCamp application

Install the application from the link below for both Ubuntu 22 and Ubuntu 24 using your preferred method and run the application.

https://timecamp-public-desktop-app.s3.us-east-1.amazonaws.com/timecamp-desktop/prod-9eba558e/2025-10-10-19_26-master-1.8.4.0/timecamp_1.8.4.0_amd64-ubuntu2204.deb

Debian 12+

TBD (similar to Ubuntu)

SUSE

Please contact us at help@timecamp.com

Missing distro?

Please contact us at help@timecamp.com

MacOS

For macOS Monterey (version 12) and later download TimeCamp from this link:

https://timecamp-public-desktop-app.s3.us-east-1.amazonaws.com/timecamp-desktop/pod-deeplink-01e7191c/2025-10-25-13_31-master-1.8.4.0/TimeCamp.dmg

Windows 10 & 11

Download link: <https://app.timecamp.com/download/stable/windows>