

Normandy Cob

Norman Cobs have a thick, arched, muscular neck leading to pronounced withers, a deep chest, and broad, angled shoulders. Their back is short and strong and their legs, although quite fine, have solid bone and plenty of muscle. They are typically bay, chestnut, or seal brown.

