Hi [firstname],

We've reached the very end. After tonight, the Callsi one-time launch offer is gone forever.

And with it, you'll be missing out on far more than just a discount.

You'll miss the chance to finally fix one of the biggest problems businesses face today: Missed calls.

Every unanswered call is more than just a ringtone—it's:

- A new client who decided to call your competitor instead.
- An appointment that never got booked.
- A lead that went cold because they couldn't get through.

The truth is, people don't wait anymore. They don't leave voicemails. They simply move on.

That's where Callsi changes everything.

With Callsi, your business (or your clients' businesses) can have:

-  AI-powered phone agents working 24/7 to answer calls immediately.

- ✓ Inbound and outbound automation that qualifies leads and follows up without delay.
- ✓ Appointments booked straight into Google Calendar.
- ✓ Transcripts + email notifications so you never miss a single detail.
- ✓ Multilingual, natural voices that sound human and build trust.

And here's what makes this launch even more special:

With Callsi, you don't just protect your own business—you can also become a call provider. That means you can offer businesses their own AI-powered phone team and get paid for it.

Think about it. Every business needs calls answered. Every business hates losing leads. With Callsi, you can step in and provide the solution.

But if you don't act now, all of this slips away.

The one-time license is gone. The reseller opportunity is gone. The early pricing is gone.

Don't let tomorrow's missed call—or tomorrow's missed business opportunity—be the reminder of why you needed this.

Callsi is here today.

Tonight, it won't be.

The decision is yours.

To your success,
