

Dear Sir, Madam/Name,

Good Morning!

We believe everyone has a story to tell and everyone can be an Author. That small inspiration and a tiny Help goes a long way in storytelling.

Writing books has the power to influence, educate, and entertain people of all ages. Books can help to preserve and share knowledge, culture, and history, and they can also serve as a means of self-expression and creativity. Even in today's digital age, books continue to be a vital source of information and entertainment, and the act of writing a book can be a personally fulfilling and rewarding experience for an author. As such, writing books is an important and valuable contribution to society that I believe should be encouraged and celebrated.

If you are interested, please let us know and we would love to work with you and your team/community in creating more authors.

Thanks,
Pranav Medida
