Meta Constitution

In Article 3, insert a new clause after (6):

1. During a period of fourteen weeks following the Governor-General leaving the position, they will not be permitted to do any of the following:
  - a. Joining a political party.
  - b. Holding any canon political office such as that of Member of Parliament.
  - c. Being a candidate in any canon election.
  - d. Receiving modifiers for canon activity in the simulation.

Article 8 | Electoral Commission

1. All canon elections will be operated by an Electoral Commision.
2. The Electoral Commission will be lead by the Chief Electoral Officer, who will have final say on all decisions relating to elections.
3. The Chief Electoral Officer may nominate up to three non-partisan members to the Electoral Commission who must pass a meta vote of confidence before their appointment.
  - a. ~~Once these members leave the Electoral Commission, they will be barred from standing in any canon election for a period of three months or until after the next general election, whichever is longer.~~
4. In addition to the three non-partisan members, the Governor-General will have an advisory role on the Electoral Commission.
5. During a period of fourteen weeks following a member of the Electoral Commission leaving the commission, they will not be permitted to do any of the following:
  - a. Joining a political party.
  - b. Holding any canon political office such as that of Member of Parliament.
  - c. Being a candidate in any canon election.
  - d. Receiving modifiers for canon activity in the simulation.

This amendment closes the loopholes I see with the current wording. Former EC members + the GG are explicitly barred from any elected or political position for three months. In practice, this should mean that people cannot stand in the election immediately following one which they are a member of the EC for.
