

Spider-Man: No Way Home | Confirmation of Leaks and Rumours

Posting this to validate all the leaks and rumours from different Scoopers that I posted a while ago on this roundup.

Use of colours:

Things that were in the movie and are absolutely real

Things that weren't in the movie and are false or could've been changed/cut

Uncertain if it's real or false

ViewerAnon (6/8)

- Willem Dafoe's Green Goblin is the main villain (Source)
- Tobey and Andrew are in the movie (Source)
- Dafoe is playing the Raimi Green Goblin (Source)
- He believes Doctor Strange 2 and NWH have already screened on the Disney lot (Source)
- "Before the credits roll on NWH you will hear "With great power comes great responsibility." No teasing or winking at it. The actual line." (Source)
- The rumor of Sony rushing on VFX might be true (Source)
- "Andrew tells Tom's Peter the story of Gwen's death" (Source)
- NWH is much more focused than Spider-Man 3 which was also overstuffed (Source)

DanielRPK (5/13)

- There is a 6th villain, not Sandman, Lizard, Doc Oc, Electro, and Goblin, who will appear late in the film (Source)
- "They are doing the S6 but looks like there will be other villains not part of the team of Sinister 6" (Source)
- "[Emma Stone] was supposed to [appear in No Way Home] but because of her pregnancy it seems less likely now" (Source)
- Electro slightly references Miles Morales (Source)
- Sony wants Tobey to be the MCU's version of Uncle Ben (Source)
- Movie is around 2 hours and 30 minutes long - (Source)
- Sony only wanted 5 villains in NWH as they are saving the Sinister Six for a future project (Source)
- "Tobey and Andrew are in the movie and come in an hour-hour and a half into the film" (Source)

- Both Sandman and Lizard die after the events of their previous films which will be explained (Source)
- Kirsten Dunst and Emma Stone were originally set to appear but couldn't because of COVID (Source)
- There might be another trailer before the release of the movie (Source)
- The cameo Matt Murdock (Charlie Cox) has in No Way Home is in Peter's house, with Aunt May and Happy. Someone throws something from the window, and Matt catches it. Peter says "How did you do that?", Matt replies "I'm a VERY good lawyer!" (Source)
- Tobey and Andrew will first appear and help Tom's Peter as scientists first before they suit up. Their total screen time will be about 30 minutes. (Source)

KC Walsh (4/5)

- Most of the characters in NWH are just cameos (Source)
- GIF teasing Willem Dafoe's return (Source)
- Backs up Charles Murphy's claim that Charlie Cox is returning as Daredevil (Source)
- Tobey and Andrew are not just cameos (Source)
- The previous Sony films will be merged with the MCU (Source)

Charles Murphy (4/4)

- "Charlie Cox is Back as Daredevil" (Source)
- "'Spider-Man: No Way Home' Used VFX Teams from Previous Raimi and TASM Films" (Source)
- "We know pretty much the whole thing" (Source)
- Tobey is teased with photo (Source)

FandomWire (1/1)

- "Spider-Man 3: Tobey Maguire & Andrew Garfield Signed On" (Source)

The Hollywood Reporter (2/2)

- "Alfred Molina Returning as Doctor Octopus" (Source)
- "Benedict Cumberbatch Joins 'Spider-Man 3' as Doctor Strange" (Source)

Collider (1/1)

- Alfred Molina, Andrew Garfield and Kirsten Dunst are all coming back (Source)

Express (1/1)

- Willem Dafoe and Dane DeHaan “in talks to reprise roles” (Source)

The Illuminerdi (1/1)

- “Willem Dafoe and Thomas Haden Church negotiating return” (Source)

Big Screen Leaks (8/9)

- “There’s actually a few scenes in NWH where they acknowledge his life since Spider-Man 3. It’s clear that this is the one from the first 3 films and not just a variant.” (Source)
- “Paula Newsome’s Role in ‘Spider-Man: No Way Home’ Revealed” to be an M.I.T administrator (Source)
- Rhino isn’t in the movie but is referenced. There won’t be a 6th villain (Source)
- “Mysterio’s in Spider-Man: No Way Home through archive footage” (Source)
- Thomas Haden Church and Rhys Ifans are in NWH (Source)
- NWH will have 2 post-credits scenes, one controversial and a great one (Source)
- Around 6-7 villains will appear on-screen in NWH, counting Mysterio’s flashback as one (Source)
- Final runtime will be 2:28:01 (Source)
- The second post-credit scene will be the first trailer for Doctor Strange in the Multiverse of Madness (Source)

AjepArts (4/4)

- Tobey and Andrew’s Spider-Man won’t die (Source)

- Tobey is several years older than he was in Spider-Man 3, whereas Andrew is close to the age that he was at the end of The Amazing Spider-Man 2 (Source)
- Teases that Matt Murdock is coming back with GIF (Source)
- Green Goblin is the main villain (Source)

The Cosmic Wonder (1/1)

- The Black and Gold suit is just the FFH suit turned inside-out after green paint is thrown at Peter (Source)

The Cosmic Circus (3/4)

- “Details on the Strange v Peter fight for No Way Home” Strange uses his Cloak of Levitation against Peter (Source)
- Sam Raimi and Marc Webb helped with the development of Tobey and Andrew’s Spider-Man (Source)
- The movie will explore what Tobey and Andrew’s Spider-Men have been up to since the events of their films (Source)
- “‘Spider-Man: No Way Home’ Could Bring Back Former Hero Themes” (Source)

u/SpideyForever245 (13/23)

- Movie starts off where ‘Far From Home’ ended and there is a time-skip
- Peter is in court and there is a lot going on. He is trying to prove his innocence
- Peter initially goes to Strange to clear his name via a spell
- Doctor Strange calls out that there is something going on and the Multiverse is breaking
- There are villain going around from other worlds
- The Sinister 6 will consist of Green Goblin, Doc Ock, Sandman, Lizard, Electro and Rhino. The 6th member comes later
- The villains are the same versions from their respective films and are taken from the moment they “died”. At the split second between life and death, they were pulled from their home worlds into the MCU. They remember dying
- The villains have the same design at first with the exception of Electro
- When Electro comes back from the “dead” he’s no longer blue for some reason
- Goblin is the main villain
- Strange tries to capture them and puts them in a prison he made. The prison is a normal prison protected by magic

- Dafoe manipulates Peter but he's not lying to him. He tells Peter that if he'll let Strange get them back to their worlds, they'll die and the reason they'll die is because it was Spider-Man that killed them, so Peter doesn't want that on his conscience
- Now it's up to Peter to get them back to the prison
- Tobey Maguire and Andrew Garfield are in the second and third act of the movie to help Peter capture the villains
- Tobey and Andrew both have their old suits
- There are some scenes with Tobey and Andrew on their own
- Tobey and Andrew tell Tom at one point that while they fought different enemies over the years, their worst enemy was the Green Goblin
- The movie's final act is on the Statue of Liberty that now looks like a big Captain America with the shield
- The villains and all the Peters are fighting over a Stark arc reactor [Somewhat correct because of Electro vs Peters]
- Each villain try to use the arc reactor for something else
- The battle ends with all the villains being teleported to the prison with the exception of Willem Dafoe's Green Goblin
- The Goblin kills someone and Tom Holland cries and gets really angry almost killing Goblin but he doesn't do it
- Movie ends with Peter finishing high school. Not sure what happens to Maguire, Garfield and Goblin but it looks like everyone still knows Peter is Spider-Man at the end

Heavy Spoilers (12/14)

Plot leak video posted on August 4 (Source) - Credit to u/lettucedunk and u/TheStarAvenger for transcript

- The movie opens immediately after the events of Spider-Man Far From Home. We pick up with a focus on a sign that says West 33rd Street, which is located opposite Pennsylvania station. This is where Peter was at during the post-credits scene of the prior movie. He jumps down to talk to MJ and is immediately swarmed by the public who are all recording him on their phones and posting out his reaction. This makes him panic and he grabs MJ before swinging through the city. This includes traveling past time square which has his face apparently blown up on the central screen.
- Not long after this. Peter hands himself in and he's joined at the station by MJ, Ned, and also Flash. Flash is a big fan of Spider-man, but he hated Peter and used to bully him at school. However realizing that he's a good guy he joins his side, and interestingly the actor has now dyed his hair bleach blonde which lines up more with his comic book counterpart. Peter even allows himself to be put in one handcuff whilst the other one is tied to an interrogation room table. He could clearly snap out of this but he's meant to do it so that the officers feel safe similar to how Supes did it in Man Of Steel.
- Soon enough people quickly realize that the Mysterio group doctored the footage with spider man "murdering" Quentin Beck. Peter's name is cleared, however, he now has to live with the world knowing that he is spider-man. He goes back to school and gets surrounded at school by his classmates. He's constantly in the public eye.

- There's a really touching scene where Peter and MJ sit on a rooftop away from the world, and Peter says that he just wants to stay up there forever. During this, MJ reads a newspaper that says spider-man has the power to hypnotize females
- The pair are absolutely consumed by the new fan fame. There's meant to be a lot of scenes early on that have them reading their phones, obsessing over it. The movie takes place across a number of seasons, and it's supposed to range from Summer, through Autumn, and all the way up to Winter
- Now it's during Autumn, namely Halloween, that Peter gets a certain idea after looking at a witch decoration. He seeks Doctor Strange for his help on the whole identity debacle. We then transition to the Sanctum Sanctorum, and we find it pretty run down and covered in snow. This is because of the snap, and Bruce Banner smashing through the roof
- Strange can be found shoveling snow and trying to clear the place out. Peter asks Strange if it's possible to go back in time and change things, but as we know this would only create a bigger mess. Going back in time would create a branched reality, rather than changing the results of what really happened. This portion of the movie pulls from the "One More Day" storyline.
- Although Mephisto doesn't show up in this film, we get a similar story with Strange. Strange decides to do a spell that will erase the knowledge from everyone's mind that Peter is spider-man. Wong warns him of the dangers of this spell, and Strange tells him that "he won't do it", but then he gives Peter a cheeky wink [it was in the trailer]. Wong then packs his bags, and he goes off to fight the abomination in Shang Chi which leaves Strange by himself to cast the spell.
- This is an odd detail, but Heavy Spoilers says that Strange will have a coffee mug that says "Oh for fox sake".
- From here Peter and Strange go to the basement of the Sanctum, and Strange pulls a strand from Peter's hair to create the spell (similar to what he did to Thor in Ragnarok). He then casts Peter's secret identity out of the world to make sure that everyone forgets he is spider-man. This ends up going wrong because Peter interrupts him, and asks if he can complete in such a way that Aunt May, Ned, and MJ still remember. This is because MJ and Peter have a bit of back and forth about how difficult it was to keep it from her. Peter doesn't want to go through that again, but this, in turn, cracks the multiverse wide open and we get the sinister six coming through this tear in reality. The lineup is Green Goblin, Doctor Octopus, Electro, Lizard, Sandman, and Rhino. The six villains attack New York and both Stange and Peter have to round them up. The only one they don't capture is Green Goblin.
- Goblin decides to hang back whilst the others go ahead. Strange then puts them in a prison which Peter doesn't know about, and Goblin goes to visit them. Here he finds out that the last thing they all remember is the spider-man of their earth being there when they died. Goblin can't break them out because there's a magical cube that Strange put in place to stop them from doing so. Because of this, Goblin goes to Peter for help. He tells him that the Peter of their earth killed them. He also says that if they go back, they'll face their death so there's no way home.
- Now Peter feels super guilty about this, and he steals the cube which leads to Strange chasing him across the city in the mirror dimension. There's apparently a moment where the city collapses in on itself, similar to how it did in the chase in Strange's solar movie. He uses his cape to capture Peter. Strange pushes out his astral form and manages to get the cube but it's too late. The villains escape again.

- According to Heavy Spoiler's source, the major leaks we've heard with Osborn stealing an Arc reactor, and positioning it above the Statue of Liberty is true. The Statue of Liberty now carries a giant Captain America shield. They also said there is going to be a big character death, but it's unknown so far since they've filmed several different endings. They're leaning into it being May.
- The video also mentions that Charlie Cox's Matt Murdock is Peter's lawyer!

u/GlobalDetail2934 (16/40)

Credit to u/Pomojema SWNN for this roundup

- In spite of the fact that Tobey Maguire and Andrew Garfield are in this, this movie is definitely Tom Holland's story. He won't be getting sidelined for the other two characters, though they will have plenty to do.
- Tobey has a very light beard. Andrew has longer hair.
- Benedict Cumberbatch's role will feature a lot of voice-over content, he has to guide Peter out of whatever mess he's in and is unable to physically appear while Peter undergoes the gauntlet on his own and with his other selves.
- The first scene in the film involves a news broadcast featuring two polarizing figures in the NYC news scene debating Spider-Man's innocence or guilt. The trial scene follows soon after.
- In a homage to the 2002 movie, there's a montage where New Yorkers are interviewed for their opinions on Spider-Man in light of the ongoing controversy. (This scene may not make the final cut.)
- Mysterio's cult of personality following his "death" is present throughout the movie. New York City is heavily divided on what they think of Spidey after he was framed for his "murder", though many come around in support of our hero by the end of the film.
- MJ and Aunt May have a small subplot connected to Matt Murdock's defense of Peter Parker as they gather evidence to prove Peter's innocence. Matt is the only lawyer defending Peter - there aren't others. This scene may have been scrapped but Matt still has around 3 different scenes
- The courtroom scene will feature a dialogue between Charlie Cox and a prosecutor. (The actor playing the prosecutor isn't a big name and is apparently an indie director making a cameo - I think that this character is a one-off role and it's nobody important, but I'm not completely sure. The prosecutor, however, is not Jennifer Walters, and is a Caucasian, brown-haired man. Either the actor or the character is named "Marvin", or at least answered to that name.)
- The idea that part of the plot moves forward thanks to Peter accidentally messing with something in the Sanctum Sanctorum is "kinda right".
- There is at least one flashback to events tied to Spider-Man: Far From Home movies from a different perspective was filmed, and it involved London Bridge.
- Alfred Molina's stunt double was present early on for some major sequences and was present for most of the production. Doctor Octopus has a big part in this movie.

- The stunt team apparently discussed the possibility of Spider-Man ripping one of Doctor Octopus's tentacles off. (This is one of those ideas that were discussed but may not appear in the film itself.) [Though Green Goblin rips one of the arms]
- Tobey Maguire first visited the set in November while Tom Holland and Benedict Cumberbatch were shooting on a soundstage, and he actually filmed stuff in the last third of the production. Tobey's stuntmen handled scenes before then.
- One of the major fight scenes will take place at night and will feature police officers and cop cars. Tom, Tobey, and Andrew are all present for this sequence. The scene will be crucial for MCU Spidey's character arc, as this is apparently a point where Spidey will begin to regain the city's trust.
- There's a scene involving S.H.I.E.L.D. security guards.
- There are rumors about a major character dying in this movie.
- Zendaya Coleman, Jacob Batalon, Marisa Tomei, and J. K. Simmons have stunt doubles. Apparently, a scene with the Simmons double was so funny that it had the crew in stitches. Marisa's stunt double apparently has a lot to do.
- J. Jonah Jameson has a new "Hoffman"-like assistant in this movie.
- There's a scene where a beaten-up Spider-Man (Tom Holland's version) seeks shelter with homeless people. Tom is said to give one of his most emotional performances yet in this scene.
- Spidey saves a disabled woman, who appears to be overweight. (The character in question was a stunt double, suggesting that they may at least have a minor role.)
- The third act had a massive set that took three months to build.
- Peter Parker and Michelle Jones won't be a romantic couple by the end of the film.
- Scorpion has some kind of a role in the movie.
- The movie will feature detectives investigating Spider-Man.
- F.E.A.S.T. is being treated like a soup kitchen to help homeless and ill people
- Green Goblin's pumpkin bombs are making a return, with some releasing green smoke.
- Expect major damage to Tom's suit
- Tom messes with something at the Sanctum Sanctorum
- Regarding Mando I heard that he filmed some stuff (no suit). I don't really like to dive deep into this because if I'm wrong then I'm screwed
- Maguire and Molina have a lot of interaction [They interact once]
- Tobey and Andrew do team up against Molina. From what I heard it's a gorgeous close combat scene with a lot of stunt and CG work
- There are some funny scenes in the movie. JK has a very funny one. The rest is the interaction between the kids [I assume Ned, Peter and MJ], the dynamic with Strange and Peter, and of course the 3 Spider-Men while developing a plan
- Electro hits Tom with some kind of lightning and proceeds to mess his web swing
- After the chase scene, Strange gets the cube back and scolds Peter about everything that happened until that point off his downfall and they have kind of a back and forth, after that follows the scene where Strange pushes the Astral Projection
- I know for a fact that Tobey did some promotional stuff. This Sony marketing it's a whole new game so who knows what's going on
- Dr. Strange has a fallout with Peter and things get kinda tense between them but there's also a funny vibe between the kids and him

- F.E.A.S.T. is a major plot point in the movie and is also the night scene I was talking about
- Don't get fooled by how they edited the trailer, it's pretty much confirmed who gets the pumpkin treatment
- The building where the night scene happens is being used for F.E.A.S.T, Happy's apartment and a former Stark building all in one
- Charlie Cox filmed various scenes, but some of them were probably cut from the final version

u/MyTimeToShineHello (30/46)

- They shot multiple endings to make sure no one knows who really dies
- Charlie Cox is playing Matt Murdock but doesn't suit up, he is also somewhat the same version from Netflix
- Lines from the movie:
 - "Is this stuff coming out of you?" (Tom to Tobey)
 - "The wizard said he'd get us back to where we came from, but we can't go back" (Dafoe to tom)
 - "The power of the sun in the palm of my hand" (Molina to Tobey)
 - "Well, well if it isn't my murderer" (Electro to Andrew)
 - "We are who we choose to be... now, CHOOSE" (Dafoe to Tom)
 - "You've never done anything of this magnitude. Strange, don't cast that spell, It's too dangerous" (Wong to Strange) [Trailer only]
 - "I'm gonna kill the light, so everyone in this city is gonna know how it feels to live in my world. A world without power. A world without mercy. A world without Spider-Man" (Electro to Andrew)
 - "The itsy bitsy spider climbed up the waterspout. Down came the Goblin and took the spider out" (Dafoe to Tom)
 - "We can beat them together" (Tobey to Tom and Andrew)
 - "We tampered with the stability of space-time" (Strange to Tom)
 - "Don't ever forget these words... With great power comes great responsibility" (Tobey to Tom)
 - "After Mysterio revealed my identity my entire life got screwed up. I was wondering if maybe you can go back in time and make it so that he never did?" (Tom to Strange)
 - "Godspeed Spider-Man" (Dafoe to Tom)
 - "Your Ben, How did he die?" (Tobey to Tom)
 - "You're not alone, you have us" (Tobey and Andrew to Tom)
- Peter will wear Strange's cape in NWH
- There's a big action scene between Tom and Dafoe on the Queensboro Bridge where he uses the pumpkin bombs to blow off the bridge [Kind of right, it was Doc Ock instead of Goblin]

- The villains are the same versions we saw in the movies. They don't really explain why some of them look different
- Sandman and Doc Ock are still good guys
- Norman is using tech (I believe it was Stark tech) to mind control the villains. It's the reason some of them, like Ock and Sandman, are acting bad. Norman tries to come up with an evil scheme but Otto and Sandman initially refuse to take part in it so he mind controls them. This could have been changed for the final version.
- Green Goblin is the main villain
- Mysterio is not in the movie as far as I know but is mentioned
- Tom Holland, the two Spideys and the Sinister Six are the main characters.
- Strange only has a small role
- Tobey and Andrew are in NWH for about 40 minutes
- Tom has a John Walker moment and beats the hell out of Goblin out of rage
- Aunt May dies
- The spell brought Tobey and Andrew to the MCU but you don't see them till later
- Venom is in the Post-Credit scene
- Miles is not in the movie
- Kingpin is not in the movie
- The Sinister Six will return to their universes and die
- Aunt May also tells Peter the "With great power" line in the movie before Tobey. Tobey remarks that his uncle used to say it.
- Ned uses Strange's ring to find the location of Tobey and Andrew. They're already in the MCU when he does
- Ned opens a portal but not to another universe. Ned tries to use the portals to find Tom but the portal tracks and brings the two other Peters to them instead.
- Matt Murdock is only a cameo
- Rhino is not in the movie and there are only the 5 villains we know
- The Charlie Cox scene is set at Happy's Home (I believe) with Peter, Happy and May. The "I'm a VERY good lawyer" scene happens in their kitchen and Matt is still catching a brick.
- We don't actually see Uncle Ben but he will be mentioned by name [He is mentioned but not by Tom]
- Tom will get the black symbiote suit in the MCU after NWH. He won't get it in the post-credit but you will get a hint that this is the direction they're going
- Venom doesn't stay in the MCU
- Tom will appear in the MCU after NWH
- They filmed two scenes with more than 3 characters sitting at a table. One with Happy, May, Tom and Tobey, and one with Happy, May, Tom and Matt. But the scene with Matt originally wasn't at a dinner table with May and Happy.
- The John Campea photos are real

Credits to u/WebheadSupreme for a roundup of interesting NWH leaks from 4Chan. Most of these are probably coming from different users since some of the leaks were taken from the comments of the threads. Also, it's 4Chan, so take all of this with a grain of salt.

- 4Chan leak thread #1 - July 4 (Source)
 - Story opens after Peter is revealed to be Spidey
 - Feds interrogate him, MJ, Ned and May about Mysterio's death
 - He and MJ can't get into MIT because of his notoriety and her proximity to him
 - Peter goes to ask his homeboy Dr Strange to cast a spell so everyone forgets he's Spider-Man
 - Wong warns them that it could fuck shit up
 - Peter's pestering makes Strange screw the spell up
 - Strange accidentally opens the multiverse and brings in the people who are specifically after Peter/Spidey
 - He tries to rehabilitate all the villains instead of sending them back to their universes to die... at the hands of their respective Spideys
 - Yadda yadda Green Goblin betrays him
 - May dies as a result
 - The other two Spideys finally show up due to Ned having Strange's ring that opens portals
 - The three work together
 - Big fight with all the villains
 - Strange finishes his spell and makes literally everyone forget that Peter is Spider-Man
 - The other two Spideys don't show up until the last 1/3 of the movie, and it's a little unsatisfying. Vulture and Shocker aren't in it
 - All the villains show up long before Andrew does. I also don't know how long the final cut will be, but it's looking like well over 2 hours
 - Electro makes a quip that he always hoped a black guy was under the mask, and that there's gotta be a universe where that's the case
 - Tobey and Garfield are in the last hour. They all get to be science bros for a minute
 - Doc Ock says Norman is dead in his world
- 4Chan leak thread #2 - August 23 (Source)
 - Daredevil appears only as a lawyer
 - Ned starts using magic with Strange's ring
 - MJ who along with Peter and Ned try to get into MIT
 - May dies
 - Green Goblin's grenade kills her and she gets to say ben's famous line
- 4Chan leak thread #3 - August 23 (Source)

- The three Spideys don't meet until the end of the movie, and it's Ned opening portals that gets them all together without their costumes on [Only Tobey is not with his costume]
 - Current cut is 2.5 hours, I think. Definitely no cliffhanger, unless you count everyone in the world forgetting who Peter Parker is a cliffhanger
 - Holland's Spidey steals Strange's ring during a big fight. Strange wants to send the villains back to their universes, where they'll die at the hands of their respective Spider-men, but MCU Peter tries to rehabilitate them. Ned just ends up with the ring, and learns to open portals over the course of the movie
 - No Rhino. Lizard did fuck all the entire movie
- 4Chan leak thread #4 - August 23 (Source)
 - Tobey and Andrew don't show up until the last 1/3 of the movie
 - Charlie Cox is in it as Peter's lawyer, and shows off some unusual reflexes
 - Most of the movie is actually about MCU Peter trying to rehabilitate the villains from the non-MCU movies, which goes about as well as you'd expect
 - May is killed by Green Goblin after the inevitable betrayal
 - May gets the "with great power..." line this time
 - The spell goes wrong because Peter won't shut the fuck up
 - There's no implication that it's May repeating something Ben said in the movie (unless they add it in ADR or reshoots), so I think it'll just come off as "Ben died offscreen without saying anything worthwhile"
- 4Chan leak thread #5 - August 23 (Source) - Similar to thread #4 but with some new information
 - The multiverse is opened because Strange is (pretty easily) convinced by Peter to try to erase from everyone's memory that JJJ and Mysterio outed Peter as Spidey. Because Peter is rejected from MIT lol
 - Electro actually has a line where he says he thought Spidey might have been black, and hopes there's a universe where he is
 - Movie ends with Strange completing the spell and literally everyone forgetting who Peter Parker is
 - Considering the ending of this one, where Holland's Peter mopes off into the sunset after visiting May's grave, with literally nobody in the world knowing who he is, I'm thinking this is the last outing for this version of Spidey
- 4Chan leak thread #6 - August 23 (Source)
 - I don't remember exact lines of dialog, but Tobey definitely doesn't do the "with great power" line. that's May in her dying breath [He does but only recalling that Ben told him that]
 - A lot of the movie is MCU Peter trying to rehab all the villains (that's why he and Strange fight) in Happy's apartment. Norman is totally fine until Green Goblin mode kicks in, and he sabotages Peter's plan to help everyone. He blows up Happy's apartment, and after a fight in the lobby, May gets the business end of a grenade

- Strange gives Spidey a magic device to use on the villains to transport them to the prison. Strange doesn't actually do it himself
- Rhino is not in the movie
- It's totally possible Rhino got cut between script revisions. And yeah, Lizard is there, and he's in the final battle on the statue of liberty, but I sometimes forgot he was part of the movie
- May dies, making it the "Uncle Ben" moment of this, pushing all of the Peters to take the Sinister Six down. With everyone forgetting who Spider-Man is, he is now unknown by the Avengers, and has no ties to them. The movie ends with Spidey swinging around New York
- I know there's a shot of all of Peter's spider suits in his closet now, and uhh he walks around with a cellphone strapped to his chest for a while. I think that's the black suit, which is actually just his normal suit turned inside out, because someone threw slime on him
- Not Osborn who steals the arc reactor. It's Electro. Also, Green Goblin is imprisoned with the rest of them. He's in Norman mode for most of the movie, and they all reason with MCU Peter, who is empathetic and breaks them out to rehabilitate them
- The statue is under construction to hold Cap's shield

Photos and Videos (21/23)

- A shirt given to the film crew includes a picture of Andrew's Spidey suit
- Sony Latin America video confirming the multiverse and the other Spideys.
- Jamie Foxx confirming his return and teasing 3 Spider-Men
- Andrew Garfield leaked video on set. Tobey's hand can be seen
- Tobey and Andrew on set
- Willem Dafoe - Green Goblin leak
- Alfred Molina - Doc Ock leak
- Jamie Foxx - Electro leak
- Villains on the magical prison
- Concept Art of Tobey's Suit
- Tobey, Andrew and Tom's suits used for reference
- Doc Ock Concept Art
- Tobey's suit at costume fitting
- Goblin's new suit
- Black and Gold suit with phone taped on chest
- Photo of all three Spideys from John Campea
- Photo of Peter, Matt Murdock, Happy and May from John Campea
- Set video showing Peter reading a note and going in a Donut and Pastry shop to talk to MJ \(Photos\)
- Mysterio Cult from set video

- Alternative First Trailer Leak (Green Paint scene)
- Tobey's mask on the NWH Barkbox collab
- Possible leak showing Andrew holding Tom's hand
- Michael Giacchino - Spider-Man: No Way Home (Original Motion Picture Soundtrack)