

Between Amarillo and all of its suburbs, there's certainly no shortage of Borger roofers to choose from. However, the fact that there are so many roofing companies, contractors, and freelancers in the Borger area makes it more difficult than ever to choose the right roofer for your needs. If you have a residential or commercial roofing project coming up and you don't know who to turn to, you've come to the right place.

Residential Borger Roofers

Residential Borger roofers specialize in roofing projects and jobs related to structures where people live. Therefore, if you own a house, apartment, condo, or another residential dwelling in Borger, you will need a residential roofing contractor.

While some roofing companies perform both residential and commercial services, many of them specialize in one or the other. So, if you don't want to worry about having to make a distinction between the two, it's best to hire someone who offers comprehensive roofing services for all property types.

Commercial Borger Roofers

Next, there are commercial Borger roofers. These types of roofing companies and contractors only work on commercial properties, aka businesses, churches, schools, and more. As with residential roofers, there are some commercial roofers who only perform commercial duties, but others perform both residential and commercial.

Because commercial roofing projects tend to be larger and more complicated, there are more residential Borger roofers than commercial ones. Therefore, if you have a commercial project in the works, your options may be more limited, and you should schedule your roofing services in advance. Borger Roofers For Any Occasion

In addition to finding the right type of roofer for your property, you also need to find Borger roofers who can perform your roofing project. The last thing you want is to work with two or three different companies to handle different aspects of your job. Therefore, here's a list of roofing services your Borger roofer should be capable of handling.

New Installations

Installing a new roof is the most important and well-known duty of a professional roofer. As such, there's no shortage of Borger roofers who can do this job. However, there are many different roofing materials that you can choose for your new roof, including metal, shingles, wood, clay, and more. It's important to choose a roofing company that specializes in the material of your choice.

Roof Replacements

While roof replacements are similar to new installations, they are much more time-consuming and in-depth. In addition to installing a new roof, your company of choice must be able to remove the old one and dispose of it without damaging your home or property in any way. Therefore, it's important to choose a roofing company that works quickly and efficiently but also pays attention to detail and leaves your property intact.

Roofing Repairs

No matter how great of a job your roofer does installing your roof, there will come a time when you need roofing repairs. When that time comes, it pays dividends to be able to hire the same Borger roofers who installed your roof. They will be intimately familiar with your project and be able to perform fast and effective repairs. Additionally, they will likely offer a warranty or discount on the repairs since they were the ones who installed it in the first place.

Roofing Inspections

In addition to installations, replacements, and repairs, it's also a good thing when you can find Borger roofers who handle roofing inspections. Whether you need your roof inspected for potential damage or prior to listing your property For Sale, roofing inspections are an important commodity.

Annual Maintenance

As with every other component of your home or business, your roof will require occasional maintenance to ensure it's intact and ready to weather the elements. Contact us at KangaRoof to schedule annual or bi-annual roofing maintenance for your home or business.

Gutters, Soffit, Etc.

Finally, while it's become common practice for professional Borger roofers to install gutters, soffits, flashings, and other roofing components, this isn't true for all of them. It will save you a ton of headaches and hassle if you can find a roofing company that can handle these duties so that you don't have to hire an additional company.

How to Choose the Right Roofing Company in Borger

Once you know the type of roofing company you need and verify they can perform the necessary duties, here's how to narrow down your options and make the right choice.

1. Check their online reviews to see what people are saying about them. Their company website often doesn't tell the whole story because the company itself controls the narrative.
2. Verify that the roofing company has the proper credentials, including insurance, licensing, and references.

3. Ask your friends, family, and neighbors who they recommend and if they have had luck with them.
4. Request a quote from any company you're considering and select the one with the fewest fees and costs and the best price.
5. Meet with your Borger roofers of choice and ensure that they're honest, have integrity, and are someone you can see yourself working with.

If you can find a roofing company that can meet your needs, checks each of the boxes above, and has an affordable quote, they're likely the Borger roofers for you.
