

How to become filthy rich and influential

Everybody dreams of having power and influence. Most never figure out how to do it. I'm going to give you a path. All you have to do is follow it. All the money and respect you want is on the other side.

The broke life

Being broke sucks a. We've all been there. You can't go out a lot. You can't travel. You can't take care of those closest to you. You don't get the respect you want. The list goes on.

It's a miserable experience.

There's a saying I heard one time that completely changed my view on money. The quote goes like this "If life is a game then money is how you keep score."

Without money, you're down on the scoreboard. You're the losing team. Everybody will criticize you, disrespect you, and make fun of you.

Money is the most important resource on the planet. You need to be on the winning side. You'll be granted new opportunities. People will view you differently. They'll respect you more.

Don't ever listen to anyone who says "money doesn't make you happy."

It almost always comes from someone who either

- A.) Has no money
- B.) Someone who has no ambition to work hard and get more money
- C.) An soulless moron who sold his soul for money

It's a way of coping so they can feel content in their lives. Money will make your life better in every way, shape, and form. Unless you're a drug dealer or something. Then you might run into some problems.

Get money in a legal way and overall it will increase your enjoyment in life.

Benefits of being rich and influential

Money and social status are much more important than people think. There's so many benefits to being rich and influential.

You're able to take care of those closest to you. Almost any problem they have, you'll be able to fix it. You'll basically become a superhero in their eyes. Mr. Reliable.

You'll become more respected. Everybody wants respect. You want to be treated like you matter. Like you're important. Your network will grow as a side effect. You'll know a guy who knows a guy.

You need to become a valuable human for any of this. Money is how you're judged.

You can sit back and be ignorant of all this, or you can find a way to become a money printing machine. Stop coping. Start working.

Even though most people don't want to hear this, hard work is the only answer. Legally anyways. Avoid the shortcuts because they'll put you in prison.

Let's speak about the best, proven method to making money and increasing your social status.

The solution to all your money problems

If you want to grow your income and be able to help your loved ones, strengthen your reputation, grow your network, and impact the world in a good way, you need good marketing and good selling abilities.

If you know how to sell you can start any business. It's not easy. You can't just throw together a half ass plan and expect to get clients. You need good marketing.

Good marketing will get you a steady stream of clients. You'll have money coming in steadily and relatively quickly. Your only real worry will be "what should I do with all this money?"

Start dedicating a significant portion of your day (If you can find the time) to learning marketing, and selling. They're truly the most important skills in the world.

It's your one way ticket to never being poor again. Your money worries will completely evaporate.

Almost every rich person you've heard of possesses both of these skills. They're selling black belts. They're marketing wizards.

They can take $1 and turn it into $2 so easily.

Good marketing can take you from small time to well connected, well respected, and trusted by those close to you.

You'll become the most influential person that your friends and family know.

You can easily double your money and grow any business if you put your marketing in the right hands.

It's what's going to get you the fast cars, the big houses, the exotic vacations, the valuable network, the respect, and a reputation that precedes you.
