Donald Moisan, acclaimed to SW (170 words):

I have worked for the Correctional Service of Canada for 27 years. Currently, I am a clinical social worker for the mental health service. It is said of me that I am a man of projects. I like to invest myself in my work and to obtain concrete results. This is what drives my involvement in our union. I am a steward, an active member of my Sub-Group and Chapter, a member of your bargaining team for a second collective agreement and a member of the national consultation committee. These commitments have allowed me to develop a good network of consultation, communication, and exchange with the members.

Given my strategic negotiating, consulting and executive roles, I am confident that I can provide maximum input to all members. Indeed, these functions allow me to access information and the right people and to promote your interests.

My priorities are your working conditions, the safety of your environment, freedom from harassment and your financial conditions. I am committed to work on these with great determination for your benefit.

Thank you for your trust.
