

Image Description: A heading on a note reads, "I like being Autistic because:" and is surrounded by brightly colored doodles of a yellow lightbulb and a pink brain with a red heart inside. The next part of the note reads, " The same parts of my brain that disable me, also allow me to develop multi-disciplinary talents. Nevermind savantism; I have many skills which I attribute to the exact same aspects of my neurology that handicap me. Disability is nothing to be ashamed of and the spectrum is rife with ability too!"
