II Main part of the lesson.

And do you know the history of books?

We can't imagine our life without books and reading. Beginning from our childhood we are surrounded by a lot of books. But who was this man who invented printing? Do you know his name?

I should say that he was a genius. His name will be famous in ages. It was Johann Gutenberg who printed the so-called Gutenberg Bible in 1456.

The first printed English book was "Sayings of the Philosophers". It was printed in 1477.

Also, the pioneer of printing was Ivan Fedorov. He issued the first printed book "Apostle" in 1564.

It seems to me reading is and will be part of our life. We can't imagine our life without books. First we see them in our childhood when our parents read us books with pictures, nursery rhymes (потішки) and fairy tales. Later at school we start reading with the first ABC book. And the books are with us almost every day. We copy them, study, borrow and lend, translate and use.
