

Promoting his first mystery novel, Kinky Friedman told the LA Times in September 1986: "I've always talked about finding a life style that didn't require my presence and I think that writing novels is it."

ChiTrib, October 1986: "Right now, my favorite place to sing is in the shower. I'm not big on doing a lot of shows. In fact, that's why I started writing, because the road was getting very old, getting to be a grind. I was searching for a lifestyle that did not require my presence."

LA Times again, in October 1989: "My whole life I've been looking for a life style that doesn't require my presence."
