

Here is your HW from now until June 10th:

- There are 12 math activities in the boxes.
- Choose any 3 options per week.
- Have a parent initial the box and write the date.
- I will check your grid and collect assignments every Friday.
- Label each activity with the number from the box.

Here is your HW from now until June 10th:

- There are 12 math activities in the boxes.
- Choose any 3 options per week.
- Have a parent initial the box and write the date.
- I will check your grid and collect assignments every Friday.
- Label each activity with the number from the box.

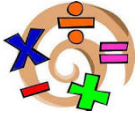

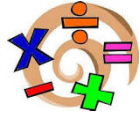

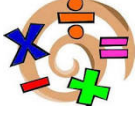

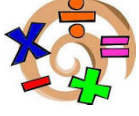

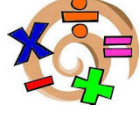

Here is your HW from now until June 10th:

- There are 12 math activities in the boxes.
- Choose any 3 options per week.
- Have a parent initial the box and write the date.
- I will check your grid and collect assignments every Friday.
- Label each activity with the number from the box.

Name _____

You must complete 8 of these between today and June 9th

(Complete all 12 and you will get a small prize)

 1. Write a word problem using the equation <math>345 \times 16</math>. Solve it. Initials &amp; date:	 2. Make an 8 question multiplication &amp; division quiz for a classmate. Make an answer key! Initials &amp; date:	 3. What has been the easiest thing in math for you this year? Why? What was the hardest? Why? Initials &amp; date:	 4. Practice your facts! Use flash cards, play salute with a friend, or a math fact game online Initials &amp; date:
 5. Spend 15 minutes on Greg Tang's website. Initials &amp; date:	 6. Decimal detective: Where are decimals used in everyday life? Write down as many examples as you can find. Initials &amp; date:	 7. What do you think about math homework? What kind of math homework would be helpful? Initials &amp; date:	 8. Find a recipe for something delicious. Double the recipe. Hand in the original and the doubled recipe. Initials &amp; date:
 9. Find a grocery store ad. Plan a dinner for 5 people. Include prices, quantity, and the total you'll spend. Initials &amp; date:	 10. Describe yourself as a math student. How can you work to improve in math next year? Initials &amp; date:	 11. Find the area and perimeter of a floor in a room in your house. Initials &amp; date:	 12. Find 10 polygons in your home. Write the example and what type of polygon each one is. Initials &amp; date:

