About this Course:

This class is all about bringing out your creative side! We will learn the basics of how plays are structured, how to critique and revise our writing, and how to include play specific language in our stories. We will also spend some time looking at playwrights that changed theater in positive ways.

Class Expectations:

I rarely assign homework for this course. Students will be allowed to complete classwork at home if they are unable to complete it in class. Students are expected to come to class ready to learn and work. We read each other's work and provide positive feedback in this class. Students are expected to treat their peers with respect. If a student is having trouble meeting these expectations, I will contact their guardians for the second offense and their principal for the third offense.

*See student handbook for late work policy and test corrections

Please contact me through email if you have any questions.
