

Felicity Warner - Sacred Anointing for the Dying 2025

During this soul-stirring course, you'll:

- Be guided through meditations and rituals that help you feel the energetic power of sacred oils in your own body
- Recognize how to use anointing practices rooted in ancient traditions to support the dying with comfort, presence, and love
- Understand the psycho-spiritual stages of death and how they correspond to the elements — earth, water, fire, and air
- Discover how to select and work with high- and low-frequency oils to soothe fear, ease agitation, and elevate consciousness
- Prepare yourself as a vessel of light so you can transmit healing energy through your touch with clarity and confidence
- Create personalized anointing blends that reflect the soul essence of the person transitioning
- Gain tools to support emotional release, soul healing, and ego dissolution during the dying process
- Learn how to care for the newly departed by setting sacred space, practicing soul-to-soul communication, and witnessing the light body after death
- And much more...

This course is for soul midwives, caregivers, spiritual seekers, and anyone drawn to serve at the threshold of life and death. It's also for those going through any kind of transition — because sacred oils work not only with death, but with all passages of release, surrender, and transformation.

There comes a moment in every life when the veil thins, the breath slows, and the soul begins to cross beyond the veil.

With the sacred oils and the teachings of the Myrrhophores, you'll know how to meet that moment with reverence, clarity, and a sacred toolkit drawn from a lineage few even know exists.

You'll be able to say, I am here, and you are not alone.
