

Snow is turning into ice
It's all my eyes can see
Stuck in a black glacier
Staring into the void
Void is behind the horizon
Waiting for me to sleep
Wind is howling in my ears
I'm shaking
These thoughts keep haunting me
I'm frozen
It's so cold but I can't stop burning
Wishes and apologies
Are wounding
This quietness is bleaching
Old frames are shrinking
Buzzes and pixels
Visions and trances
Are calming
Dreams keep getting mixed up with reality
For self-defense
Hallucinations of a spring
Are warming
Blue ocean and sun rays
Are floating
Get me out of this hibernation chamber you've put me in
Ice is melting
Oxygen is decreasing
Mechanical Whirrs are stopping
Phantoms are leaving
Lights are dazzling me

Snow is turning into ice
It's all that I can see
Wind is howling in the void
Black glaciers waiting me to sleep

This bleached-out silence
Is burning
Wishes and apologies

Old frames are shrinking
Buzzes and green pixels, they haunt me
Dreams keep getting mixed up with reality
For self-defense

For self-defense
Hallucinations of a spring
Are warming
Blue ocean and red rays
Are floating
Misplaced harmonies and fear of lost relief
Are melting
