

Works Cited

- Bernstein, Mark. "A New Virus Spreads." CNN, 16 Aug. 2002, www.cnn.com/asia/live-news/coronavirus-outbreak-01-31-20-intl-hnk/index.html.
Accessed 4 May 2019.
- Kaptin, Joseph. The World of Wonder. Routledge, 1994.

Use this template to help you format your Works Cited. Change the text as needed, and delete these paragraphs when you are finished. The Works Cited is the last page of your paper, so the page number in the upper right corner will probably not be "1". If you are turning in a longer paper, simply copy the examples above onto the last page of your paper and change the text to match your sources.

The first example above is the format for citing a website. Simply change the text to match the information from your source. The second example is a citation of a book. If you have book sources, use the template by changing the information to match your source. If your source is missing information that is included in the template, then leave it out. For example, if your source has no author, begin with the title.

Finally, alphabetize your list of sources.

This template is written in Times New Roman, 12pt font. It is double spaced with 1 inch margins. Each entry has a "hanging indent." This means the first line of an entry is not indented, but the lines that follow are. This is the opposite of a normal paragraph.