

Head lice are always around, but during the winter when kids share hats and people are inside more, they have more ways to spread. Here is some information you may find helpful.

For information on the treatment and prevention of head lice, please visit: Caring for Kids Head Lice Resource Page.