Plans After High School:

When high school comes to an end, I would like to spend my first two years establishing a solid connection with my interests in Graphic Design and Theatre. During this time, I will create strong connections with those in a similar field as me. Then for my third and fourth year, I will solidify my foundation for being a Graphic Designer and an Actor. After five years, I want to have a solid job in the animation industry while participating in larger theatrical productions and maybe making my way to large theatres like in Boston and New York.
