

Who is Terrible Terry

Terrible Terry is a Punch-Out Internet Horror owned by PK and designed/co-owned by The Hobo Bat. He is a Punch Out “creepypasta” with an ARG and video series directed by PK and worked on by both PK, The Hobo Bat, and Alex. Terry is not a lore heavy character, instead leaning on more realism and visuals to carry him and his concept.

He is based on a lot of old and realistic Creepypastas of the early 2000s and 2010s, as well as real life events regarding video game franchises. The main inspirations being Buried Alive Model, Lavender Town Syndrome, and MARIO.

What is Punch-Out!!

Punch-Out!! is a boxing franchise made by Nintendo with cartoony stereotypes as the main boxers. The story of Terrible Terry centers around the most popular game in the franchise: Punch-Out!! for the NES (Otherwise known as Mike Tyson's Punch-Out!!)

Disclaimer

Terrible Terry and his ARG contains implications of children's death as well as heavy flashing colors. No dead children will ever be shown, however there are still the implications. If you are sensitive to these topics as well as flashing colors, you can still enjoy the character, just not the ARG.

As well, this is a currently incomplete ARG, and will be complete with his game. Keep this in mind with things currently unconfirmed. You are free to theorize and come up with your own conclusions.

Video Series and ARG

All of this information was taken from this thread by RosesGarden99. Please give the thread itself a read and your support.

The story starts with this video, a recall video of Mike Tyson's Punch-Out, which is based off of the Burger King Pokeball Recall. Released alongside the recall video is a Reddit Post (as shown here ->)

As pointed out by RosesGarden99, the YouTube link both hidden in the recall description and the Reddit post is an actual video. This is the video, a recording of Terrible Terry and his seizure inducing effects.

[TOMT][Video Games] A Punch-Out!! boss that seemingly never existed?

His name was something starting with Terry iirc, and he was supposedly harder than Mike Tyson and was found through chance (not sure if the NES could even do that). I think the boss caused some form of health issues, due to most media relating to him warning parents about the dangers of this boss. Possibly seizures.

I found this video from a random channel that shows footage of this boss, but that's all I can find atm. I'll update this when I can.

The next update comes with 5 images, drawn by PK (Keep in the mind the depiction of corrupted Terry is outdated). The main part of these drawings are the jumble of letters that came with each drawing.

All put together, the jumble reads

"WKUHHIRXQGHGQLQWHQGRDW KDQG"

As revealed by Mr.Green, this is a caesar cipher. After being decoded, the text reads:

"THREE FOUND DEAD, NINTENDO AT HAND"

The Twitter caption also plays a big part in this mystery, as it states "No amount of apologies could fix what happened that week."

The next reveal of this story comes in another image posted by PK, showing an advertisement showing off Terrible Terry. The important part of this article reads:

"Can Little Mac take out this terrifying threat? Dial 1-800-521-0900 and ship in your copy of Punch-Out!! to see if Little Mac beats this threat."

As well as a caption to the art of Terry, which reads

"Terrible Terry and his circuit may pose a serious harm to your children if unsupervised. Please follow the instructions given for the safety of your child."

The next update is with yet another outdated Terrible Terry corrupted drawing. When brightened, there is a carving on his arm stating "1 found dead in 2009"

It is speculated among fans of this ARG that that is referring to the cameraman in the previous sighting video of Terry. However I will not confirm nor deny this. All I will say is stay tuned.

The final update of this ARG was on June 7th, with a statement from Nintendo regarding the deaths caused by Terry. Yet there is, once again, a secret to his image. As if messed around with and brightened, you get this message:

This discovery was helped in part by RedMarioGuy, who managed to find the image. This is the image that was hidden in the Nintendo announcement

A Newspaper covering the deaths of the 3 children, Billy Evans, Thomas Etem, and Kyle Richards. All suffered fatal seizures from Terrible Terry's corruption. On October 18th, PK posted this thread displaying various screenshots of a supposed lost website made about Terrible Terry. As well as a Lost Media Wiki page about Terry, and the supposed creator of the website explaining on 4chan that he took down the website due to fear of Nintendo shutting it down themselves. The main image of note is one displaying two YouTube links. One of them is the previously seen "20090601 163653" video. The second link, as discovered by Silvery2, is a new video. This video shows what looks to be Terrible Terry inside of a ROM of Punch-Out, as opposed to the physical copy on a TV seen in the 2009 video. In the description of the video, there is a number code "20-8-5 18-15-13 9-19 12-15-19-20, 7-9-22-5 21-16", which translates to "THE ROM IS LOST, GIVE UP"

Revealed December 5th, 2023, Terrible Terry has an official game in the works, titled "Terrible Terry's Punch-Out!!" You can give the game your support here \(its canned LOL\)
