Intro

We all know that watches are the most sought after piece of jewelry out there. They're symbols of excellence and status. They enhance everyone's look tenfold. But everyone already knows this.

What people don't know is how exactly the right watch changes your appearance. This leads to them picking a watch for the sake of picking a watch, and wondering where the magic is.

This guide aims to help you further understand what all goes into unique luxury watches that makes people stand out. So without further adieu, let's dive into the details.

Style

Just like all pieces of jewelry, a watch needs to match your personal style. It needs to not only go with your clothing, but your personality and looks.

So when buying a new watch, consider these factors: Dress, skin tone, hair, eye color, and personality.

From there, you can decide what color watch you want. You can decide the brand that suits you best, and the style that compliments you most.

This is important because you want to feel confident in what you're wearing, which can only happen when you wear what genuinely suits you, not because you bought from 'Top European watch brands'.

Status

When buying a new watch, a lot of people fall into the trap of overspending in order to look rich. People do this in all aspects of life, but watches especially. It's important to know your budget and current financial situation.

The last thing you want is to come off as someone trying to act rich. There are plenty of stylish, respectable watches that don't require an arm and a leg.

At the end of the day, it's not about how much you spent on the watch that makes it important. It's the quality and the style of the watch.
